WARSHIPS WILL COVER TROOPS' WITHDRAWAL FROM NORTH RUSSIA

British Government Will Send Naval Forces to Ensure That Evacuation of Archangel District by Troops Is Carried Out Without Untoward Incident

London, July 31.—The British Government is arranging to send a naval force to Russia to cover the evacuation of the Archangel district by the troops there, it was announced here to-day. A contingent of regular army troops also is being held in readiness to assist there if necessary.

London, July 31.—The Inter-Allied Railway Commission at Vladivostok has made a formal protest to the Omsk Government of Admiral Kolchak against violations of the Inter-Allied agreement regarding the operation of the railways. The communication demands that the Russians live up to the agreement they signed if the Government expects Allied aid, according to a dispatch from Vladivostok filed July 19 and just received here.

The removal of General Semenoff from the zone where he can interfere with railroad operations also is asked.

The violations have chiefly been through the military station commandants, who sell tickets, allot cars and attempt general supervision of traffic, a duty assigned to the technical board of the American Railway Commission to Russia under the chairmanship of John F. Stevens.

The chief disturber is alleged to be General Semenoff, who appears to be the dominating figure in the trans-Baikal sector.

Kolchak Supported.

Another dispatch from Omsk says a message pledging loyalty to Admiral Kolchak, head of the All-Russian Government, was received by him from the Zematvo assembly of the Aktiubinsk district, assembled for the first time after fifteen months under the Bolshevik regime.

MINISTER EXPLAINS PROJECT FOR SUMAS

Hon. Mr. Barrow Answers Unofficial Publicity With Statement

Referring to the Sumas Reclamation project being undertaken by the Provincial Government, the Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, stated to The Times representative today that despite considerable unofficial publicity which had been appearing recently with regard to this work, no definite decisions had been reached by the Government and there was no foundation for the reports being circulated with regard to the engineering plans to be followed and the engineers who would have charge of the undertaking.

The Minister stated that the Provincial Land Settlement Board had been authorized by the Government to secure detailed information and plans in connection with the reclaiming of some 30,000 acres of land at Sumas. For many years the project had been considered and numerous plans and reports had been made by various engineers. All agreed upon the feasibility of the work and the great good to be derived from its completion. But rarely had two plans agreed. As a consequence the Government had appointed engineers to make exhaustive reports and these were now being considered.

Mr. Barrow stated that the feasibility of the undertaking and the advisability of carrying out the project having been clearly proven, it was now only a question of selecting the plans which would permit of the work being done economically and efficiently. When final plans and the engineers to have charge were decided upon official announcement would be made by the Department.

BETTER CONDITIONS ARE KING'S DESIRE

Wholesome Home Life Based on Fuller Education in United Kingdom

London, July 31.—(Reuter's)—King George made another notable speech yesterday in replying to congratulations from a joint deputation of the London County Council and non-conformist ministers at Buckingham Palace. The King said:

"The awakened consciousness of the nation demands new developments and the removal of many and grave defects in our social system. I am confident that our free and representative local institutions will be equal to the task.

"Let me recall to you some things that are specially within my thoughts.

"Of housing I have already spoken to representative authorities. I need only repeat my earnest desire that nothing will be left undone to meet the needs of the moment and to realize those better ideals for the home life of our people which can alone make possible a real improvement in conditions. Great are the needs and great the opportunity.

Education

"I am convinced also that nothing is more essential to national prosperity and happiness than education. The potentialities, physical, mental and be developed to the fullest extent. A true education would embrace all spiritual, of every community should these, would cultivate them all in due proportion and would transform our national life in a generation.

"The care of the weak and helpless, the protection of our infant life and the guardianship and training of those who by infirmity of body or mind are unfitted to engage in the daily struggle of life also are matters very near the hearts of the Queen and myself."

GERMAN "HOCHS" ANNOYED CROWDS IN VERSAILLES

Paris, July 31.—The judge-advocate who investigated incidents connected with the departure of the German peace delegates from Versailles finds there is no cause for action.

It was reported that the Germans had aroused the protests of the crowd by sticking out their tongues at the spectators and shouting "Hoch," and the charge that stones were thrown rests upon the unsupported testimony of Dr. Theodore Melchoir, one of the German financial delegates, and Frau Greta Coriblush, one of the secretaries.

TAFT INTENDED TO KEEP VIEWS SECRET

Letter on Dominions and League Published Without His Knowledge

Montreal, July 31.—William Howard Taft, ex-President of the United States, who passed through Montreal to-day on his way from Murray Bay to Chicago, was not inclined to make any statement concerning his recently published letter in which he criticized the participation of the British Dominions in the League of Nations.

"The letter referred to was a confidential one," he said, "which I did not expect to be published, but in some way or other it was published without my knowledge or consent. It is a subject on which much might be said, but as I am due to go away in a short time, I cannot enter into it now."

Much Criticism.

"You are naturally aware that your attitude has caused considerable criticism in Canada, the people of which were proud of their recognition as an entity by the Mother Country?" was the next question.

"I am glad to see Canada in the League of Nations," was the rejoinder, "but you will admit, I think, that it is an anomaly for two countries under one sovereignty to be treated as separate countries when it comes to a question of settling a difference between the two and other nations.

"As to representation on the Council, I do not think it is very likely that Canada would be elected thereon when there are forty nations which have the right of recognition."

BACK TO JAPAN

Paris, July 31.—Baron Nobuaki Makino, head of the Japanese delegation to the Peace Conference, accompanied by his staff, will sail shortly for Japan.

LONDON DAILY NEWS MAKES AN APOLOGY

Says It Made False Imputations Against Four Cabinet Ministers

London, July 31.—The Daily News to-day prints an apology to Right Hon. J. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Right Hon. Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty; Right Hon. Sir Eric Geddes, Minister without portfolio, and Right Hon. Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction. The newspaper says that its investigation has proven its imputations to be baseless.

A London dispatch of Wednesday stated that writs had been issued against The Daily News on behalf of the Ministers above named for alleged libel. The specifications of the alleged libel concerned comments on charges made by The Weekly Nation that the Ministers were in possession of various Russian mining and development company shares, some of which had been purchased since the armistice was signed, and therefore while Great Britain was hostile to Russia.

Montreal Will Have a Parade in Honor of Lieut.-Gen. Currie

TRIBUTE TO HAIG BY MARSHAL FOCH

Allied Generalissimo Tells of Harmony Between Himself and Haig

London, July 31.—(Reuter's)—Marshal Foch paid a remarkable tribute to Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig during the course of his address after the freedom of the city of London had been bestowed on him yesterday. The French Marshal said:

"He spared more than any other leader the lives of his men.

"What interviews we had during those last six months! He from the north and I from the south, despite great distances and fatigue, sought each other like two big brothers in order to live in closest intimacy and insure an absolute community of ideas as the march of our armies became more and more rapid. We had to do so to force events.

A Telegram.

"On November 9 I sent Field-Marshal Haig the following telegram, feeling certain I should be loyally followed by him and his armies:

"'The disorganized enemy, owing to the repeated attack, is giving way along the whole front. It is essential to maintain and accelerate our operations. I call upon the energy and initiative of the Commanders-in-Chief and their armies in order to secure and render decisive the results obtained.'"

Marshal Foch concluded:

"Let us salute the glorious dead who sleep in France. Faithfully, piously and jealously we shall guard them and keep their memory alive because to us they are a testimony and a pledge."

Hates Posing.

London, July 31.—Marshal Foch, submitting to photographers at his hotel in London yesterday, said to a reporter of The Mirror:

"For me the terrors of peace are worse than those of war. I hate all this posing."

ORANGEMEN WANT PLACE IN CABINET

Delegation From Convention in Ottawa Will See Borden

Ottawa, July 31.—A delegation from the Orange convention now in session here will wait on the Prime Minister at noon on Friday. The proceedings will be private, but it is stated that one purpose of the delegation will be to urge Orange representation in the Cabinet.

About 600 delegates are in attendance at the convention from all parts of Canada, Newfoundland and neighboring British possessions.

Hocken Spoke.

Grand Master H. C. Hocken, M. P., in his opening address yesterday said that the Orange Order must build for bigger things than has been the case so that better service to the country and the cause of Protestantism can be rendered.

"Whatever the future may hold for Ireland," said Mr. Hocken in regard to the Irish question, "the people of Ulster may depend upon the Orangemen of Canada giving them all the support within their power. Sinn Fein rebels shall not rule Ulster. The war has torn the mask from the face of Nationalism and revealed the Nationalists as the implacable foes of the British Empire, as the allies of the most ruthless despotism that ever threatened to subjugate the world and as dangerous opponents of human freedom."

SHIP TO BE LAUNCHED IN SEATTLE WILL BE CHRISTENED "EDITOR"

Seattle, July 31.—In honor of the forthcoming convention of the National Editorial Association of the United States to be held consecutively in Portland, Seattle, Victoria, B. C., and Vancouver, B. C., next month, the United States Shipping Board has authorized the re-naming of a big steel 9,600-ton steamship to be launched at the Skinner and Eddy plant on August 16. The ship was to have been called Elkton, but now will be named Editor.

BRITISH SHOULD DECIDE FATE OF THE EX-KAISER

London, July 31.—Major-General Weygand, Marshal Foch's Chief of Staff, who is in London with Marshal Foch, says it is up to Great Britain to decide what should be done with the former German Kaiser. "He is covered with shame and ignominy, and branded as a coward," the General declares. "The French people think that this is enough punishment."

Police and Textile Strikers Clash at Montmorency Falls

Quebec, July 31.—There was bloodshed this morning among the textile strikers at the Dominion Textile Company's plant at Montmorency Falls. About sixty strikebreakers arrived on a train at 7.45 this morning but were not permitted to disembark, about 300 strikers preventing them from leaving the train. Twenty special constables rushed the strikers and rescued the workers, but had to club some of the strikers, and a constable, hard pressed, had to fire in the air. Three or four strikers were slightly injured.

PROHIBITION MOVE IN UNITED KINGDOM

London, July 31.—In connection with the prohibition campaign in the United Kingdom the members of Parliament who sympathize with it will conduct an energetic secret movement in Parliament to maintain the existing liquor control regulations established during the war, and especially the restricted hours of sale, says The Daily Mail.

These members are trying to persuade Mr. Lloyd George to receive a secret deputation, the newspaper asserts.

AUSTRALIANS WILL CONTINUE TRAINING

Will Retain Pre-War Military System, Says General Monash

London, July 31.—Major-General Monash, commander of the Australian Expeditionary Corps, in the course of an interview here, said that Australia will adhere to her old system of universal training. Future training, he said, must conform strictly to that of the British home army, and every unit of the British overseas forces must be interchangeable.

The Australian authorities announce that any soldier absent without leave after August 15 will forfeit his return passage.

About 30,000 Australians still await repatriation.

TELEGRAPH SYSTEMS BACK TO OWNERS IN UNITED STATES

Washington, July 31.—At midnight to-night Government control of the telegraph and telephone systems of the United States, which began July 22, 1918, will end and the properties will be turned over to their private owners. An order to this effect was issued yesterday by Postmaster-General Burleson in accordance with the resolution adopted by Congress and recently signed by President Wilson.

TORONTO CARPENTERS GET HIGHER PAY

Toronto, July 31.—Carpenters here are to get seventy-five cents an hour as demanded, from the majority of the city contractors.

RENNER AND OTHERS OF AUSTRIAN CABINET FIND LOAD TOO HEAVY

Decision to Resign Made While Terms of Treaty Presented by Allies Still Being Considered and Awaiting Signature of Austrian Representatives

Vienna, July 31.—The Austrian Cabinet, headed by Dr. Karl Renner, has decided to resign.

London, July 31.—A message received here from Vienna by way of Berne says it has been semi-officially announced in the Austrian capital that the Cabinet reached a decision to resign at a meeting held Tuesday.

Austrian governmental affairs have recently been in a rather unsettled state. The peace terms presented by the Allied and Associated Powers to the Austrian delegation at St. Germain-en-Laye have been stoutly protested against in official circles in Vienna. Last week Dr. Otto Bauer, Foreign Minister, resigned, largely because of dissatisfaction at his failure to obtain important advantages for Austria in the negotiations leading up to the formulation of the peace treaty. Chancellor Renner took over the duties of the Foreign Office himself in addition to those of the Chancellorship.

GOVERNMENT MOVES TO CUT DOWN LIVING COST IN U. S.

Washington, July 31.—First steps in the Federal Government's attempt to reduce the high cost of living throughout the United States were taken to-day by the inauguration of a plan for the sale of $125,000,000 worth of army food stocks direct to the people, with every postmaster and mail-carrier throughout the country acting as a salesman.

At the Department of Justice investigations into the cause of increased living costs were under way, with particular attention being given to the question of whether producers or dealers had combined in violation of law to raise prices of necessities.

Through the postmasters and mail-carriers the War Department is offering direct to consumers its present available supply of surplus foodstuffs amounting to approximately 341,000,000 pounds. This surplus, consisting of canned vegetables and meats, is expected to be sold within a week at prices representing the cost to the Government plus postage. Arrangements for the sale of the foodstuffs, directed by a resolution passed by the House, were made at a conference held by Secretary Baker with Post Office Department officials. Secretary Baker had a price list covering the entire available surplus prepared. This list has been sent out to each of the 54,000 postmasters of the country and to every rural route carrier.

The postmasters and carriers are acting as Government salesmen, informing interested consumers of the prices and methods of sale and taking orders for the foodstuffs.

RAILROAD SHOPMEN IN U. S. CONTINUE WORK

Washington, July 31.—Representatives of the six railroad shop unions of the United States who are in conference here with Railroad Administration officials telegraphed to shop employees throughout the country today not to strike pending final settlement of their demands. The workmen were informed that the Railroad Administration had consented to enter into a national agreement with the unions covering rules and working conditions.

TROOPS NOW KEEP ORDER IN CHICAGO

City Comparatively Quiet After Stormy Period of Race Riots

Chicago, July 31.—Chicago was comparatively calm to-day for the first time since Sunday, and public officials expressed the belief that the use of five regiments of state troops had effectually quelled the race riots, which resulted in thirty deaths and the injury of more than 1,000 persons.

State militiamen are patrolling the danger districts in the South Side and their appearance on the streets has had the effect of suppressing violent disturbances. They were aided in their work by a driving rain which kept crowds from gathering.

A dozen arrests were made of white men and negroes charged with carrying concealed weapons, and there were several sporadic fights but no mob attacks reported.

No Marital Law

Governor Frank O. Lowden called attention to the fact that the city was not under martial law. He explained that the state troops are working in connection with the police.

Mayor Thompson said one reason for his appealing to Governor Lowden for the use of state troops was that he had information of a well-defined plot to burn down a large section of the colored belt.

The fact that the white men had resorted to the torch was clearly shown by fifty incendiary fires in twenty-four hours in the negro district.

Relief

When Governor Lowden learned that thousands of negroes who had virtually been held prisoners in their homes since Sunday because of the

ESTHONIANS STATE ALLIED AID NEEDED

London, July 31.—(Reuter's)—Referring to the labor resolution passed at Southport against intervention in Russia, the Esthonian Provisional Government in a statement declares the Esthonians are struggling to retain their importance and the right of self-determination and have established a democratic republic, owing to Allies and especially Britain's help. For this reason they trust the democracy of Britain will not refuse further support and declare that if it is withheld Esthonia will inevitably become a victim of imperialistic communism.

SHIPPING IDLE AT BREST AND HAVRE; LABOR DISPUTE

Brest, July 31.—(Associated Press).—All work at this port has ceased, the employers having declared a lockout because of the demands of the Dockers' Union.

Havre, July 31.—The lockout on the docks of Havre has become effective, 3,500 men being out. The Union of Employers has hired 400 day laborers to work for the French Quartermaster's department.

Advices from Havre on July 29 were to the effect that the Union of Employers of the port and city, considering the dockworkers to have broken the contract signed last March for a six-months' period by the Port Workers' Union, had decided to stop all work in the port from July 30.

Other concerns not members of the Employers' Union agreed not to hire any dock-workers until a settlement had been reached.

Paris, July 31.—The French Cabinet approved to-day the proposal that peace should be considered to exist officially from the date of publication in The Official Journal of the ratification of the German treaty by the Chamber of Deputies when completed. ### WARNING TO GERMANY.

Paris, July 31.—Premier Clemenceau, as President of the Peace Conference, sent a letter yesterday to the German peace delegation protesting against the action of Germany in selling national properties in Schleswig, on which plebiscites are to be taken for decision by the population as to union with Denmark.

The note gave warning to the Germans that all the properties in question were considered as possible security for the payment of Germany's indemnity, and that the Peace Conference would hold Germany responsible for the proceeds of such sales.

WANTS BRITISH TO SAVE ARMENIANS

American Relief Official Says Turks and Tartars Advancing

Paris, July 31.—Turks and Tartars are moving upon the Armenians from three sides. They have cut off the American relief supplies, and threaten the remaining Armenians with extermination unless additional military protection is afforded, according to dispatches from Major Joseph C. Green, of Cincinnati, who is directing the American Relief Administration's work from Tiflis.

Herbert Hoover, Director-General of Relief, immediately submitted Major Green's message to the Peace Conference, which already had similar reports from other American and British observers.

Major Green, under date of July 23, sent the following from Tiflis:

"Had a long conference with the Armenian President to-day. The situation is worse. The Turkish army, well prepared, the Tartars are advancing from three sides. If military protection is not afforded to Armenia immediately, the disaster will be more terrible than the massacres in 1915, and the Armenian nation will be crushed, to the everlasting shame of the Allies."

"Relief work is impossible in the present situation unless order is restored. Can not something be done to have the British force in the Caucasus intervene to save Armenia?"

Are Advancing.

Under date of July 24 Major Green telegraphed:

"The Turks and Tartars are advancing in the districts of Karabagh and Alagbez. They now occupy approximately the re-opened territory of Russian-Armenia. A Turkish colonel is commanding the Azerbaijan Tartars.

"Relief depots and trains are surrounded and have probably been seized. British officers state that orders from higher sources prevent their interference. The Armenian people and Government are in despair. General demobilization was ordered yesterday, taking the men for the harvest.

"We shall not be able to carry on relief work much longer unless the British receive orders to clear all Russian Armenia of Turkish and Tartar forces."

A message received by the American Relief Administration in Paris from Major Green in July said that the Georgian Government had placed an embargo on Armenian relief supplies and was showing little disposition to lift it. Likewise the Azerbaijan republic was hostile to Armenian relief measures, according to Major Green, and was joining with the Georgians in an effort to starve out the Armenians, compelling them to amalgamate with the Georgians and Azerbaijans in a movement against the Russian volunteer forces in Trans-Caucasia.

PORTUGUESE ELECTION.

Lisbon, July 31.—The election of a new President of the Portuguese republic will take place August 5.

CALGARY WOMAN GAINED 20 POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC

Took Medicine For Two Years Without Benefits; Health Is Restored

"Since I finished my first bottle of Tanlac, I have gained exactly twenty pounds, and I never felt better in all my life than I do now," said Mrs. M. E. Croslin, who lives at 415 Third Avenue, North West, Calgary, the other day.

"Before I took Tanlac," continued Mrs. Croslin, "I had been in very bad health for about two years, and the medicine and treatment I took didn't do me any good at all. I suffered terrible with nervous indigestion, and I was in such a weak, run-down condition that when I exerted myself the least bit, I would often faint. These fainting spells always left me prostrated, and it would be sometime before I could get around any at all. Everything I ate would sour on my stomach, and I would often have shortness of breath so bad that I just felt like I was going to choke to death. I was so blue and discouraged over my condition, that I was just about ready to give up.

"I read in the paper one day where a party who had suffered exactly as I did had been greatly helped by taking Tanlac, so I just dropped all the medicine I was taking at that time, and commenced on Tanlac. Why, it is just wonderful the way I have improved since then. In fact, I can honestly say that I am perfectly well now. I have a fine appetite and eat and enjoy three hearty meals every day, and I never suffer afterwards. I have gained so much in weight and strength that I can easily do all my housework, and I never have that tired, weak feeling like I did. I sleep like a baby every night, and don't know what it is to suffer from nervousness any more. Tanlac is the best medicine I have ever seen, and I never expect to be without a bottle of it in my house."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas—Advt.

COUNSEL CLASH AT PRELIMINARY HEARING OF WINNIPEG STRIKERS

Winnipeg, July 31.—A clash between opposing counsel, which for a time threatened to become serious, featured the preliminary trial yesterday afternoon of the eight labor leaders held for seditious conspiracy. E. J. McMurray, defence counsel, cross-examining Ald. J. K. Sparling, asked, in reference to the appointment of Major H. B. Lyle as head of the special police: "Would I be wrong if I suggested that Major Lyle was brought here by Senator G. D. Robertson?"

A. J. Andrews, crown prosecutor, sprang from his chair and said: "That is not a fact. I know very well it is not a fact."

He thought it distinctly improper for the defence to make suggestions not known to be correct.

"Nothing could be more ungentlemanly, more cowardly, than to make a suggestion that reflects upon a Minister of the Crown when he is not present. Even counsel for the defence can be a gentleman," Mr. Andrews declared.

Mr. McMurray walked deliberately to the magistrate's bench and said: "The proper answer to an outbreak like that would be a slap across the mouth. I am really astonished."

Magistrate Noble said if the object of the question was to throw mud on the Minister of Labor it should be objected to. The Minister should not be made the subject of insinuations by counsel.

The incident ended after some further discussion with the statement by Mr. McMurray that Senator Robertson was a warm personal friend of his and that he had no intention of throwing discredit on him.

M'KENNA WITH BANK.

GUM TENDERNESS —A TOOTH-MENACE

It is true that four out of five people over forty suffer from gum-shrinkage, or Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). But many people even under thirty have Pyorrhea. Women, particularly after the baby comes, are peculiarly subject to Pyorrhea. At such time they cannot be too careful about their teeth.

Pyorrhea commences with tender gums, or with gum-bleeding, at tooth-brush time. Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame and then shrink. The teeth become exposed to decay at the base and tiny openings in the gums become the breeding places of disease germs which infect the joints—or tonsils—or cause other ailments.

Beware of that first gum tenderness! Try Forhan's for the gums. It positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. No ordinary tooth paste will do this.

And Forhan's cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes. All druggists.

BOARD TO HANDLE YEAR'S WHEAT CROP

Ottawa Governments' Plan Outlined in Official Statement Issued Yesterday

Ottawa, July 31.—The following statement on the handling of the 1919 wheat crop of Canada was issued by the Government yesterday afternoon:

"The peculiar conditions of the wheat market in Europe and the United States, where Government agencies are almost exclusively employed, and where Government credits have to be provided for the purchase of wheat, rendered it necessary to provide a similar agency in Canada or to run the risk of being faced with an absence of adequate cash markets for Canadian wheat and a speedy and uniform movement of the same.

"The Government, after very careful inquiry and consideration has decided, therefore, to appoint a board of experienced men connected with adequate powers to conduct the purchase and sale of the Canadian wheat crop of 1919, both for export and domestic purposes.

"An initial cash payment by way of advance will be made by the Board to the farmers for each bushel sold, based on the price of No. 1 Northern at Fort William. At the conclusion of the season's sales, after the deduction of necessary expenses, the total excess realized over and above the first payment made to the farmers will be divided among the original sellers in proportion to the grades and quantities sold. The farmer will thus receive the best world price for his wheat in a cash payment at time of his sale, and a final payment when the wheat crop has been disposed of.

Records.

"A complete system of record under the provisions of the Canada Grain Act and the regulations made thereunder will be kept, which will enable the Board to determine with accuracy and pay with certainty the exact proportion of the surplus due to each original seller.

"The Board will sell wheat to millers and will sell the flour milled therefrom for export, while for the domestic consumption the sales will be made as usual and the price will be restricted to a fixed maximum of reasonable profit, allowing within that maximum competition among the millers themselves.

"The grain exchanges will not give facilities for the buying and selling of futures in wheat during the crop season of 1919.

"The Board will utilize, so far as available and necessary, the existing facilities for the purchase, transport and handling of wheat with a view to disturbing as little as possible the existing and ultimate methods of trade.

All Interested.

"The Government has been actuated in its decision by a desire to secure for the Canadian farmer the best possible world price for his product, and at the same time to insure to the home consumer that his flour shall not cost more than is made necessary by actual world prices. Such action has also been made necessary in order to secure the early marketing and speedy movement of Canada's surplus wheat, thus making it possible for the farmer to realize at once a substantial cash price for his wheat, and ultimately the fullest possible return of the balance of price realized by the season's sales.

"The establishment of this Board does not interfere with the work of the Board of Grain supervisors in respect of that portion of the crop of 1918 delivered by August 15. The latter Board's powers and functions are continued in full force so far as that crop is concerned. The new Board will have sole authority to deal with the crop of 1919 and with that portion of the crop of 1918 which will be undelivered by August 15."

BRITISH MINISTERS SUE LONDON NEWS

London, July 31.—Writs were issued yesterday against The London Daily News on behalf of Rt. Hon. J. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Rt. Hon. Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty; Sir Eric Geddes, Minister without portfolio, and Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction, for alleged libel.

The specifications of the alleged libel concern comments on charges made by The Weekly Nation that the statesmen possessed shares in various Russian mining and development companies, some of which were purchased since the armistice with the Teutonic Allies was concluded, and therefore, while Great Britain was hostile in Russia.

STRIKES IN BRITAIN AND USE OF TROOPS

London, July 31. — Reuter's. — Replying in the Commons to a Labor speech in which reference was made to the use of troops for strike-breaking, the Hon. Winston Churchill, after pointing out that there was no strike-breaking anywhere, said that he would think it odious that the forces of the state be used to interfere in a dispute between capital and labor in order to advance the interests of the employers or any particular group of workmen. The whole idea of a free country was that the people should have the right to fight out their differences within reasonable limits. Never must force be employed in questions where private interest was the motive power. The position which the Government was taking up had been accepted, namely, that where the state as a whole is challenged and where the life and welfare of the community as a whole are endangered, then obviously the state must use all the resources at its disposal to fight without flinching to the bitter end.

JEWELRY MAKERS FACE IDLENESS

Toronto, July 31.—Canadian manufacturers of gold jewelry are facing a shutdown of their plants, with an enforced idleness of over 10,000 workers, owing to the supply of gold bullion being cut off from Ottawa yesterday. Numerous and written inquiries have been sent to Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance, but so far the only reply received in Toronto is from the Comptroller of Currency, who states that the supply of bullion is discontinued for the present

ARMY OF BELA KUN, BEATEN BY ROUMANIANS, HAS MELTED AWAY

Berlin, July 30.—Via London, July 31.—The Berliner Tageblatt's correspondent at Budapest has been able to smuggle through the censorship of Bela Kun a dispatch giving what he says are the details of the defeat and ignominous flight of the Hungarian Red army, a defeat which, he asserts, led Bela Kun to hasten to treat with the Entente regarding a retirement.

The Red offensive against Roumania, the correspondent declares, was inspired by Bela Kun. He hoped to distract the attention of the troops from the miserable food conditions in Budapest.

At the start the Roumanians were caught by surprise and forced back over the Theiss River, but they soon recovered and came back with such strength that the Red army simply melted away and fled back across the Theiss, a hundred of its men being drowned in the river by Roumanian cavalry patrols.

The fifth day of the offensive, says the correspondent, saw the entire Red army in wild flight, having suffered enormous losses.

"Bela Kun," the correspondent declares, "sent the army against the Roumanians to avoid a crisis which is now worse because in their defeat the troops have mutinied and deserted to such an extent that the army consists of only four divisions and fourteen batteries, most of the guns having been lost in the retreat."

CEMETERIES AND DIVORCES.

Spokane, July 31.—Refusal by a wife to reside in a burying ground does not constitute grounds for divorce to the husband, Superior Judge Brice Blake held in effect here yesterday, when he refused a divorce to C. H. Babcock, former superintendent of a local cemetery. Babcock testified his wife left him because her surroundings depressed her

APPEAL COURT RULES ON SUCCESSION DUTIES

Vancouver, July 31.—The $300,000 in personal property in this Province which the late Sir William Van Horne, K. C. M. G., left in his estate has supplied the Court of Appeal with the opportunity to give a legal decision on a disputed point of succession duty law.

The Act provides that where the net value of the whole estate is over $25,000, duty must be paid at the rate of $1.50 per $100 on the first $100,000, $2.50 per $100 on the second $100,000, and $5 per $100 on all sums in excess of $200,000.

Sir William's estate in Quebec and elsewhere ran into the millions, and the Provincial Minister of Finance accordingly claimed succession duty at the highest rate on the property within the province. Chief Justice Hunter held, however, that the duty which is levied wherever the whole estate exceeds $25,000 can only be imposed on that portion within the province, thereby allowing the estate to be taxed on the $1.50, $2.50 and $5 basis instead of all on the $5 basis.

The Provincial Government appealed from this decision, but the Court of Appeal, by a majority, has upheld Chief Justice Hunter. Mr. Justice McPhillips alone of the Appeal bench has agreed with the contention of the Province.

FRENCH BONDS.

Paris, July 31.—M. Louis Klotz, the Minister of Finance, has just concluded an arrangement with a group of United States bankers headed by J. P. Morgan & Co. for the sale in the New York market of French Treasury bonds at 60 and 90 days, similar to the British bonds now on the market. The amount of the issue in view at present totals $50,000,000.

The United States Treasury Department, it is said, was consulted regarding the arrangement and gave its assent to it.

AUSTRIA GIVEN LONGER PERIOD

Allowed to Communicate on Treaty Until Midday of August 6

Paris, July 31.—One o'clock in the afternoon, August 6, is the time fixed by the Supreme Council of the Peace Conference yesterday for the termination of the Austrian delegation's communications concerning the peace treaty.

Division of the former German and Austrian warships among the Allies was discussed at length yesterday by the Supreme Council, but no decision was reached.

Letvia.

The Council approved a report by Marshal Foch recommending the immediate expulsion of the German army from Letvia.

The Council approved the clause in the Bulgarian treaty guaranteeing the rights of minorities, and also the ports and waterways clause.

France and Treaty.

It is expected in French circles that discussion of the treaty with Germany will open about August 10 in the Chamber of Deputies and will continue for three or four days. There will then be a three or four days discussion in the Senate.

As the Japanese Government is supposed to have a copy of the treaty by this time, and the Emperor's ratification is expected at an early date, French officals are of the opinion that the treaty will become effective when the French ratify, August 20. Britain already has ratified the treaty, and the signatures of only three Great Powers are necessary to make it effective.

Italy.

That Signor Tittoni, Italian Foreign Minister, and a member of the Italian peace delegation, has brought a much better feeling among the Great Powers toward Italy and Italy's aspirations seems apparent from discussions that are heard in Peace Conference circles and articles appearing in the French newspapers.

It is said that Signor Tittoni has studiously refrained from discussion of the Adriatic problems, and has confned his efforts to looking after Italian interests elsewhere, with the result that much of the irritation created by the long controversy over Fiume is disappearing and the way apparently is being paved for a more temperate consideration of Italy's claims in the Adriatic.

Spitzbergen.

Paris, July 31.—The Russian political commission in Paris has advised the Peace Conference Commission which is considering the disposition of the Spitzbergen Archipelago, which lies in the Arctic Ocean between Franz Josef Land and Greenland, that the Russians are willing to have Spitzbergen given to Norway.

WINNIPEG VETERANS HAVE DIFFERENCES

Dominion Executive of G. W. V. A. Asked to Smooth Out Affairs

Winnipeg, July 31.—Because of alleged obstructionist tactics on the part of a certain element of the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, the executive last night formally decided to place the affairs of the branch in the hands of the Dominion executive. This action was considered necessary because of what were described as efforts on the part of the radicals to use the branch for furthering their own particular aims instead of the interests of returned soldiers as a whole. It was pointed out that the radicals are in the minority, as was indicated by a recent referendum vote on the policy of the executive which was endorsed three to one, but they nevertheless have managed to obstruct business at several special meetings by contriving to be in the majority at such gatherings.

President Maxwell recently was forced to adjourn a meeting called to consider reports of the delegates to the Vancouver convention. Methods for defeating the aims of the radicals have been left for the Dominion executive to decide.

A Dominion-wide movement for the establishment of stores for the purchase and distribution of necessities is being discussed. The idea is to establish a store in every city and town where the veterans have a branch.

Arrangements are being made by the branch for the round table conference suggested by the executive during the strike for discussing the alien question and the high cost of living. All public and semi-public bodies in the city, including labor, will be invited to send representatives.

BRITISH RAISING EX-GERMAN WARSHIPS

London, July 31.—One battleship, three light cruisers and fifteen destroyers of the former German fleet, which were scuttled by their crews at Scapa Flow in the Orkney Islands on June 22, are ready to be salvaged, it was announced yesterday in the House of Commons. It was said there was no intention of holding a court of inquiry.

ATTEMPT TO SETTLE STRIKE IN YORKSHIRE FAILED YESTERDAY

London, July 31.—Failure of the attempt made yesterday at Leeds, in a conference of coal miners and their employers, to end the coal strike which has been in progress for some time, caused surprise and disappointment. The leaders of the miners refused to accept the Government's formula to bring an end to the controversy, or to be bound by the action of the Miners' Federation declaring in favor of a return to work. Therefore for the moment the deadlock is complete. No arrangement has been made for a resumption of the conference, so far as is known, and the outlook is regarded as serious.

Sir David Shackleton, Permanent Secretary of the Ministry of Labor, attended the conference on behalf of the Ministry of Labor, and afterward discussed the situation separately with both sides to the controversy and ascertained the points of difference. Sir David said that in his view these were relatively small. He urged upon the disputants the tremendous dislocation of and loss to the mining industry, and in addition the serious unemployment caused in industries dependent on coal. He suggested the formula of a compromise which he said he considered would enable the miners to resume work and settle their differences later.

Another serious situation is developing in the coal fields throughout the country, aside from Yorkshire, owing to delay in dealing with the grievances of the colliery surface workers, which have been the subject of negotiation ever since the Coal Commission issued its report some time ago.

The men are becoming restive and threaten to cease work unless the matter, which appears to be an affair of the Ministry of Labor, is speedily settled.

TREATY DISCUSSED BY WILSON AND SENATORS

Washington, July 31.—The peace treaty with Germany was discussed by President Wilson yesterday with four more Republican Senators, all of them understood to be unwilling to accept the League of Nations in its present form.

Salem, Mass., July 31.—"If the Senate should fail to ratify the peace treaty," David R. Francis, former United States Ambassador to Russia, said last night in an address to the Chamber of Commerce here, "it would mean that American delegates must again travel to Paris, and the United States would not come out so well a second time."

He said that there could be no peace in Europe while Russia was unsettled.

INQUIRY INTO ARREST OF WALTER SCOTT

Ottawa, July 31.—Sir Robert Borden, it is understood, has communicated with the British Embassy in Washington requesting that an inquiry be held into the arrest of Walter Scott, ex-Premier of Saskatchewan, by a United States Immigration Official. Mr. Scott protested to the Prime Minister against the treatment he received.

According to the allegation, Mr. Scott was ordered by a United States Immigration Official to leave a Northern Pacific train at Pembina, N.D., and was kept locked up for nearly three hours in a strongly barred cell. Mr. Scott claims that he liberated himself by breaking through a plastered wall.

AN OTTAWA CASE.

Ottawa, July 31.—George Durand and his wife, the latter better known as Eugenie Harel or Madame Fernand, were discharged yesterday by Magistrate Goyett at the preliminary hearing of the charges brought against them of having murdered Pte. James Lawrence, of Toronto, who was shot in their house on the Chelsea Road the night of June 16-17.

J. A. Parent, K. C., prosecuting attorney, immediately made the announcement that he would make application to the Attorney-General of Quebec to have the pair brought before the grand jury at the next term of the criminal assizes and the pair were allowed to go their way on the same bail—$3,000 each.

SUB-ARCTIC INQUIRY.

Ottawa, July 31.—The Commission named by the Government some weeks ago to make a report on the possibilities of the sub-Arctic regions of Canada will not begin its inquiry until the Autumn.

COAL MINERS STILL OUT.

Unless the miners in the Yorkshire coalfields can be induced to return to work within the next few days industrial Britain will find itself facing an economic calamity. The conference which has been in session at Leeds for several days past has failed to find a solution to the existing differences, and the deadlock now appears to be complete. Neither the Government's formula to bring an end to the controversy nor the declaration of the Federation of Miners in favor of a return to work have had any influence upon the miners. Nor has any arrangement been made, according to cabled reports, for a resumption of the conference.

Obviously the Government overstepped the mark when it sought to show, to all intents and purposes, that it could throw cold water upon the impending change in the mining industry by raising the price of coal six shillings per ton. It virtually amounted to this, although primarily meant as an object lesson as to what might be expected from continued agitation for higher wages and shorter hours. The present economic system, with its duplicated control and hundreds of competing companies and salaried officials, carries with it an apparent necessity to increase the price of coal.

It must be remembered, however, that Sir L. G. Chiozza Money, an independent member of the Sankey Commission, estimated that the amount saved by eliminating competitive waste, duplication, and toll taken by middlemen between the producer and the consumer, would allow the miners' wages to be increased by thirty per cent., and their working day to be reduced to six hours without causing coal prices to be increased. The miners, of course, know this and they also detect in the Government's expedient a tactical move savoring of Conservative politics. Continued strife emphasizes the drive for nationalization; in the meantime industry is going to the dogs.

THE EXAMINATION FAILURES.

If it is possible to establish the cause of so large a number of failures among students of the Victoria High School in the recent matriculation examination the investigation ordered by the School Board on Monday evening will not be wasted time. There would be little reason for comment were the number of unsuccessful candidates fewer; but the published returns indicate that out of the 102 papers written barely more than fifty per cent. earned the requisite marks that entitled entrance to the University.

In the case of Vancouver the percentage of successful students is considerably higher, and Trustee Perry's motion emphasized the somewhat unsatisfactory comparison. It must be remembered, however, that the schools of this city were closed for a longer period than those of Vancouver on account of the influenza epidemic last winter. While it is presumed that the Board of Examiners arrived at its decisions with a due regard to these circumstances it may easily develop that the period of inactivity in Victoria has not been taken sufficiently into account.

On the other hand the investigation should provide the means whereby all conditions which in any way contributed to the final examination showing may be reported upon and their relative importance explained. In any event, since a probe has been decided upon the Inspector's findings should prove useful and if, as easily may be the case, failures are found to be more or less restricted to particular subjects, and not to a general lower standard of efficiency, the apparent stigma is at once disposed of.

HE KNEW THE TOMMY.

Although in an essentially British atmosphere, in which little difficulty would be experienced in assimilating a British point of view, the unstinted tribute paid to the valor of the British Tommy by Marshal Foch at the Guildhall in London yesterday came from the heart of a great French soldier. He knew whereof he spoke because he knew how much the Allied defence depended upon the quality of resistance offered by Haig's troops during the last and final German onslaught. Marshal Foch said that the British armies, though virtually exhausted, fought as brilliant a rear-guard action as had ever been fought. And in his reference to the counter-offensive, which proved the deciding factor of the war, he declared that their dash and bravery were unsurpassable, only the armistice preventing them from beating their way to the Rhine.

It is just as well that Marshal Foch should have paid this compliment to Great Britain's military effort at a time when a number of Allied publicists, including soldiers and politicians, have chosen to tell the world who won the war. No two theories, of course, agree and already four Allied powers were responsible for winning the war by the individual combination of their own naval and military forces. It is a subject that should be dropped before it gets out of hand and leads to a disturbance of the excellent relations, maintained between all the Allied warriors on land and sea, without which victory would have been impossible. If France thinks she won the war she will remember how Belgium held the outer forts of civilization's ramparts at the outset. If Great Britain seeks to attach the distinction she will remember how France fought gloriously until the B. E. F. crossed the channel. Italy will recall the Piave and the succor which Britain and France sent to her. America cannot forget how a certain navy prevented the battle line from extending to the New England States in the days when Teuton eyes looked west

CHICAGO IN TROUBLE.

Apparently 6,000 American soldiers with rifles and bayonets have not proved a sufficient guarantee against the continuation of disturbances between whites and negroes in Chicago. The death roll is gradually growing while the number of persons wounded has already reached several hundreds. It will doubtless take a few days yet to restore order and establish the necessary machinery to prevent a recurrence.

There is nothing new in the problem and the peculiar circumstances which have precipitated matters in Chicago are those arising out of a closer contact between the white and colored races and the special phase of competitive industry occasioned by war work. It is nothing less than a miracle that similar incidents did not take place during the war when it might have been expected that such radical elements as exist would have attempted to rid the colored race of the social inferiority it has necessarily had to accept.

SECRET PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN?

According to The London Daily Mail Members of Parliament sympathetic with the prohibition movement in Britain will conduct an energetic secret campaign in Parliament directed towards maintaining the existing liquor control regulations. These were established during the war and enforced by the Liquor Control Board, whose active functions came to an end recently. The newspaper asserts also that these members are endeavoring to persuade Mr. Lloyd George to receive a secret deputation.

It is difficult to judge at this distance the special significance of a secret conference with the Prime Minister. But if there is one thing that Mr. Lloyd George cannot afford to do, nor would he be inclined if he could, it is to tamper by secret procedure with the various alcoholic beverages of the British workingman. Already the quality and quantity of beer have obtruded themselves as factors in the future of the economic and industrial structure, while anything in the nature of official action in secret would bring trouble in its wake very promptly.

THE AERIAL LEAGUE.

It is to be hoped that the Dominion Government is not overlooking the necessity to establish a permanent record of the achievements of Canada's air fighters. While this particular line of effort was associated more directly with the Imperial services, the fact remains—and the British Government has not been slow to admit it—that Canada made a name for herself in the air as well as on land. Nearly 10,000 Canadians held commissions in the Air Forces. Instinctively the men from this Dominion appeared to find themselves in a congenial element and their renown as air fighters became household words.

While some permanent record should be compiled on official authority there is a course open to the individual by which he may associate himself in peace time with the aspirations of the men who won so many laurels in the air. The Aerial League of Canada came into existence to convert the battle prowess of its active members into a business commodity. It set out to demonstrate the feasibility of aerial transportation in the commercial sense. Doubt upon the point has disappeared but the measure of support on the part of the public has not been as full as it might have been.

Victoria's branch of the League has shown the possibilities of aircraft, but without adequate support it may find it necessary to curtail its activities. The payment of the nominal fee for membership will demonstrate a tangible appreciation of local airmen and enable the branch to pay its way.

SOLDIERS' HOUSES AGAIN.

Returned soldiers in Victoria appear to incline to the view that the City Council refused to take part in the Housing Scheme because of ignorance of the number of men in Victoria anxious to become housholders. We venture to suggest that this is not the case. Our information—and we have made repeated reference to the fact—shows that more than three score bona-fide applicants were known either to the Superintendent of British Columbia Soldier Settlement or to the City Council. The City refused the agreement with the Province because of the possibility of loss, in spite of the fact that other places were ready to increase their liability. A delegation of returned men should be able to convince the aldermanic circle that the risk of loss would be negligible.

Up till the present time the cables have been silent on the subject of any proposal from Great Britain that a commission composed of three Englishmen should at once proceed to the United States and investigate the question of self-determination of the colored races—with special reference to the negroes whose lively presence in the city of Chicago is causing the authorities considerable alarm. It may not be felt on the other side of the Atlantic, of course, that there is any necessity to provide a parallel to the American delegation which sought entrance to the Peace Conference with a brief from an "Irish Republic."

THE APT QUOTATION.

(The London Chronicle.)

Had America's new liquor law come into force in Lowell's day, it would have "scrapped" one of his most telling figures of speech, which reads as if addressed to Englishmen to-day.

"At present these things are managed in such a hugger-mugger way," he says through the pen of Rev. Homer Wilbur, "that we know not what we pay for; the poor man is charged as much as the rich; and while we are saving and scrimping at the spigot, the Government is drawing off at the bung."

ON WITH THE DANCE!

(Hamilton Spectator.)

The Midas curse is on the country—and well did Midas deserve his ass's ears. Never was there such evidence of prosperity, and never was there more dissatisfaction. All prosperity is relative. If the people higher up are allowed to go on piling up their surpluses and wallowing in ever-increasing luxury, naturally their victims lower down will not consent to be left out entirely in the cold. It is time for someone to call a halt to the dizzy dances—may that someone be the Government.

POLITICAL BATTLE STARTS IN ONTARIO

Hearst and Dewart Leading Parties in Election Campaign

Queenston, Ont., July 31.—Upon this historic ground of Queenstown, Sir William Hearst, Conservative Premier of Ontario, yesterday accepted the gauge of battle laid down by Hartley Dewart, newly-elected Leader of the Provincial Liberal Party and defined the issue that will divide the two parties in the coming provincial general election.

The Premier spoke at the annual picnic of the Toronto Fourth Ward Liberal-Conservative Association and was accorded a splendid reception. He singled out Mr. Dewart's charge that Sir William had "connived" with Hon. N. W. Rowell and Mr. Proudfoot to deliver the Liberal Opposition into the Unionist camp, branding is as absolutely untruthful.

"There is not a scintilla of truth in his charges of conspiracy, connivance and intrigue with these gentlemen," he said. "Not only have I never conspired nor intrigued with Mr. Rowell about the Union Government, but I never even discussed the Union Government or Provincial Government plans or policies in any shape or form with him. I have had more to say about these matters with Mr. Rowell than I have had with Mr. Dewart himself."

Evasion Charged.

Sir William charged the Liberal Leader with evading issues with criticism of the Government's stand without making clear his own. He challenged Mr. Dewart to come into the open to say definitely where he stood on the temperance issue.

Sir William gave no intimation about the date of the referendum, pointing out that until the big task of compiling the lists was approaching completion it would be impossible definitely to set a day for polling.

URGES CAILLAUX BE PUT ON TRIAL

Attorney-General of France Recommends Ex-Premier Be Proceeded Against

Paris, July 31.—Trial by a high court of Joseph Caillaux, former Premier of France, who has been under arrest a year and a half charged with having had treasonable dealings with the enemy, is recommended in the conclusions submitted by Theodore Lescouve, Attorney-General of France. The report has been filed with the commission of inquiry which is just closing its long investigation. It is understood that the Attorney-General finds no ground for prosecution of the accused Deputy, Louis Loustalot, who was involved with Caillaux, or of Paul Comby, a lawyer.

Captain Mornet, who prosecuted M. Duval, who was sentenced to death, and Pierre Lenoir, who also was sentenced to death on a charge of trading with the enemy, will assist M. Lescouve in the prosecution of Caillaux if the commission of the high court adopts the conclusions in the Attorney-General's report.

Death of Indian Chief

By Edgar Fawcett.

As a witness of the incident referred to, I have made the following editorial extract from The Victoria Gazette, published in 1860:

"He was super-eminent even among his dark and treacherous race for bloodthirstiness and cruelty. If the pages of his history could be unfolded we should start back appalled at the number and atrocity of the crimes he has committed. Liar, thief and murderer, he has been for a long time past the origin of most of the wars between the different tribes. The inhuman midnight murder has ever been more familiar to him than the fair blow in open fight, and the blood of women and shrieks of helpless infants—butchered by his agents, have too often attested the terrible fact. He was an accomplished hypocrite as well, and while pretending the greatest respect for us and our laws, has broken them more frequently than any other Indian. The deed for which he was arrested is but a type of many that preceded it—an unprovoked and brutal murder, to gratify a whim only."

I knew and remember him well, and that he was a dreadful character and, as I have before recited, I saw him arrested or taken to Bastion Street jail, and heard the shot fired by J. G. Taylor that ended his career. Mr. Taylor was afterwards a city alderman, and he it was that gave all he was worth ($30,000) to the Protestant Orphans' Home. The friends of the dead man had the impudence to wait on Governor Douglas and suggest compensation for their chief's death. They suggested blankets as likely to appease their wrath, but Governor Douglas declined to see the point, but advised them to take warning by his death. He then gave orders to have his body delivered to his relatives, who interred him in their own cemetery. He was not a Hydah by birth, but a Ky-gawin, belonging to Russian territory. This affair caused a deal of uneasiness among the citizens, and Governor Douglas called for volunteers to patrol the town, and twenty members of the Hook and Ladder Company were sworn in and to be followed by the members of the Tiger and Deluge Companies (these were fire companies), and also a gunboat was stationed at the mouth of the harbor to search canoes for firearms. The Rev. Mr. Duncan, The Gazette said, "has rendered important services at this time from his knowledge of the Indian character and from the confidence the Tshimshean tribes repose in him."

10,000 UNEMPLOYED IN WINNIPEG NOW

Winnipeg, July 31.—According to a statement given out yesterday by officials of the Dominion Employment Bureau here, between 10,000 to 12,000 persons are unemployed in the city of Winnipeg at the present time.

It also was stated that the department had never before been able to send out so many local men to the farmers for harvesting. The closing of private employment agencies has much to do with this but present conditions are the main cause of the movement it is claimed. Hundreds of men are being sent out daily.

To-day in our third floor furniture showroom are several pieces of furniture made in our own factory. Your inspection of them is cordially invited.

BRITISH LOAN.

London, July 31.—The subscriptions to the recent Victory Loan amounted to £767,800,000, it was announced yesterday in the House of Commons by Rt. Hon. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer. This exceeds the amount previously announced by £59,800,000.

THE SPENCE CASE.

London, July 31.—The subscriptions terday quashed the recent conviction of Magistrate Kingsford against Rev. B. H. Spence, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, in connection with the famous book, "The Parasite," banned by the censor. The judge took this action because no attempt had been made to circulate "The Parasite" after it was published.

The conviction carried with it a fine of $500 or four months' imprisonment.

On other points the magistrate was justified in his decision, said the judge and Mr. Spence accordingly was not given his costs.

BIGGER SUGAR PLANT.

Honolulu, July 31.—The directors of the Sugar Factors' Company, Limited, announced to-day that they were considering the enlargement of the company's refinery at Crockett, Cal., with facilities for handling the entire Hawaiian sugar crop. It said that with the proposed increased facilities at the Crockett plant the company could eliminate the long freight haul of raw sugar to eastern refineries and save $1,500,000 in freight charges.

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND SUSIE'S HAMMOCK

Copyright, 1919, by Mecklem Newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard R. Garis.)

"Good morning, Mrs. Littletail, and how are you to-day?" asked Uncle Wiggily Longears, as he hopped up to the little cabbage leaf house where the Littletail family of rabbits lived.

"Oh, I'm pretty well, thank you, Mr. Longears," answered the bunny lady, "but Susie isn't, I'm sorry to say."

"Why, dear me, that's too bad!" exclaimed the rabbit gentleman. "Susie ill?" What's the matter?"

"Dr. Possum isn't sure whether she has pinkeye from eating too many carrot ice cream cones or whether she has the lettuce epizootic," answered Mrs. Littletail.

"Oh, I'm sure Susie wouldn't eat too much, unless by mistake," Uncle Wiggily said. "Is there anything special Dr. Possum said she must have?"

"Yes," answered Mrs. Littletail, "there is. Dr. Possum said Susie should keep in a hammock out of doors to make her well again. But, dear me! I've been all over the woods and I can't find a hammock. They have all been sent away to the seashore or the mountains. There isn't a hammock to be had, and poor Susie needs one so much!"

"Oh, ho! That must never be" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I'll get Susie a hammock somehow. Leave it to me, Mrs. Littletail, I'll hop right along now and find a hammock for Susie, you see if I don't."

"Well, I'm sure I hope you have better luck than I did," said the bunny lady. "I'll go in now and tell Susie you have been here. That will cheer her up anyhow."

"Good!" cried Uncle Wiggily, and his pink nose twinkled and winkled twice as fast as before.

Off hopped the rabbit gentleman bunny to look for a hammock for Susie Littletail. Uncle Wiggily tried in the five and ten cent store, thinking, perhaps, Mrs. Littletail had not thought of going there. Finding none for sale he went to the twenty-three and twenty-four cent store. No hammocks there, either.

"Dear me!" exclaimed the bunny, as he hopped along again. "Hammocks are more scarce that I thought. I wonder where I can get one?"

Just then Uncle Wiggily hopped past where Mr. No-Tail, the father of Bully and Bawly No-Tail, the frog boys, was sitting on the edge of a pond. Mr. Frog was weaving some flat, green rushes, or wide strips of grass, into a grocery basket, for he did such work in his spare time.

"What's the matter, Uncle Wiggily?" asked the frog gentleman. "You look sort of unhappy and downhearted-like this morning."

"I am," said Uncle Wiggily. "I've been trying to find a hammock for Susie Littletail, and there isn't one to be bought in the woods."

"Why don't you make one?" asked the gentleman frog, as he went on weaving and plaiting the green rushes into a basket.

"Make a hammock? How could I make a hammock?" asked the bunny.

"By weaving green rushes, and strips of grass, into a sort of long bag, as I weave them into a basket, you can make Susie a hammock," said Mr. No-Tail, who had been given that name because he really had no tail.

"Say! I never thought of that!" said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll do it! Will you help me?"

"Of course I will," answered the kind frog gentleman. So he and Uncle Wiggily soon made a nice green grass hammock for Susie. Uncle Wiggily took it home, and it was swung between two trees in the shade.

"Now, bring Susie out and let her swing in it," said Uncle Wiggily, and when the little rabbit girl saw the nice, green grass hammock, she clapped her paws and felt much better.

"Now, go to sleep out of doors here in the hammock, Susie," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll sit beside you and watch you, and your mother can go in the house and lie down to rest. She needs it."

So Susie went to sleep in the hammock, Mrs. Littletail went to sleep in the house and Uncle Wiggily sat down beside the green grass hammock to watch Susie. And pretty soon Uncle Wiggily fell asleep, too.

And then, all at once, along came Mrs. Moo, the cow lady. She was eating green grass as she walked along, and when she came to the trees, where Susie's hammock was hung, Mrs. Moo, seeing that the hammock was also made of green grass, began to chew the end of that. She didn't see Susie all curled up in the hammock. And she didn't notice Uncle Wiggily asleep under a tree, Mrs. Moo didn't.

All of a sudden, though, Mrs. Moo ate too much of the green grass hammock. It broke loose from where Uncle Wiggily had tied it to a tree and down it fell, ker-bunk, Susie and all.

"Oh!" cried the little rabbit girl, quickly waking up as she fell. But she landed on a bunch of soft grass and wasn't hurt at all.

"Oh, I didn't know that queerly woven grass was a hammock," said Mrs. Moo. "I'm so sorry, Susie!" But Susie wasn't hurt, so she said it didn't matter, and she felt much better. Then Uncle Wiggily wove another hammock from green grass, and Mrs. Moo didn't chew that, and Susie swung in it and slept in it, and was soon all well again.

And if the rocking horse doesn't try to walk the clothes line and make the wash tub roll over backward, laughing at the cake of soap, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and his stilts.

WAR WORKERS AND PEACE OCCUPATIONS

The cessation of war-time industries, particularly in the making of munitions and kindred occupations, has released a large number of women from these lucrative branches of industry. As a result many of these workers, finding their war-time sphere of occupation closed to them, and in many cases having no pre-war experience, are at a loss to find suitable and congenial employment. The problem is a big one and in an endeavor to help solve the question of the best method of using the nation's asset—the women workers—a handy and comprehensive little pamphlet has been issued by the Women's Department of the Canadian Reconstruction Association.

Various branches of employment and their advantages and suitability for women workers are reviewed, while suggestions are made for the benefit of the girl seeking an opportunity to utilize a natural bent or inclination. The pamphlet, which is entitled "What Shall I Do Now," may be obtained free upon application to the Women's Department, Canadian Reconstruction Association, Royal Bank Building, Toronto.

PRETTY WEDDING IN VICTORIA YESTERDAY

Capt. V. D. Wescott, C.A.D.C., Married to Miss Lulu Rees

A very pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized last evening at the home of the groom's parents, 1334 Johnson Street, when Lulu Grace, youngest daughter of the late Henry Rees and Mrs. Isabella Rees, of Victoria, and Dr. (Capt.) Virgil Denton Wescott, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wescott, of Victoria, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. H. S. Osborne. The ceremony was performed under a beautiful arch of daisies and ivy, suspended from which was a bell of white and pink sweet peas.

The bride looked charming in a pale pink Rajah silk suit with a pale pink and white Georgette hat, and carried a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas. She was attended by Miss Orlean Brady, who wore a pale blue satin gown with a black lace picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas. The groom was supported by an old classmate, Dr. Hugh Clarke. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome set of furs, to the bridesmaid a cut glass bowl, and to the best man a silver cigarette case.

After the ceremony, a buffet supper was served, presided over by Mrs. Frank Andrews and the groom's mother, who wore a grey georgette crepe gown beaded in black.

Amid a shower of rice and with the good wishes of the assembled company Dr. and Mrs. Wescott left on the late night boat for Vancouver. A short honeymoon will be spent on the mainland, after which the newly wedded couple will make their home in Vancouver, where Dr. Wescott holds an appointment in the Canadian Army Dental Corps. The popular young couple were the recipients of many handsome gifts.

OBSOLETE TRADE CUSTOMS.

The past few years have done much to put an end to many old customs that had outlived earlier efforts to banish them.

There is, for instance, the oddments given on the principle of the baker's dozen.

It has long been the custom in selling wool to allow a quarter pound to the stone. The Lincolnshire farmers now want to abolish the plan and effect their sales on net weight. They contend that they have to pay on the net weigth for all commodities they purchase, and therefore are justified in insisting upon similar terms in the case of their sales.

You seldom see a woman who is pale, dull-eyed, thin-cheeked, and utterly worn out who doesn't suffer more or less from headache and constipation. Her poor looks are more largely due to neglect than anything else.

Most women can have sparkling eyes and ruby cheeks if they will but use regularly a blood cleansing and laxative medicine like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Just follow these simple directions. To-night take two Dr. Hamilton's Pills and note how much fresher you feel to-morrow morning. Your face will be clearer, your appetite better, your spirits brighter. Next night take one or perhaps two pills again. Gradually reduce the dose as mentioned in the company's directions.

Day by day you will note a steady gain. You'll quickly have back those happy girlish looks you once were proud to think about. No other medicine can do so much for you as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Sold everywhere in 25c. boxes.

SUPPLEMENTAL EXAMINATIONS IN HIGH SCHOOL

Mathematics and Languages Stumbling Blocks For Many Clever Students

In view of the investigation which is being made into the reasons for such a large number of failure on the part of Victoria High School students in the recent matriculation examinations, the number of fall supplemental examinations allowed is of interest. In the junior matriculation year the unusually large number of twenty-six supplementals was granted. It is apparent by the appended list that Geometry, Algebra and languages were the three subjects which made it necessary for a large proportion of able students to take supplementals. Geometry appears to have been the chief stumbling block, there being eight supplementals granted in this subject. Algebra, too, proved difficult to students who were able to succeed in other subjects, there being six Algebra supplementals granted. In the two Latin papers there were six supplementals allowed and in the two French papers five. The subjects mentioned, of course, are not those that caused the largest number of failures, but they were the ones in which the students who gained fairly high totals failed. It is noticeable that many students who failed in one or two subjects and who will have to take supplementals secured larger totals than some who passed in all subjects.

The following is the list, hitherto unpublished, of the students of the junior matriculation year who were granted supplementals, the subjects in which supplementals were allowed, and the total marks secured by each student:

Arthur James Bayd, 558 (Chemistry, Latin Authors); Lorna Creeden, 533, (Chemistry); Mae Dinsdale, 536, Geometry); Edith Annie Dunnett, 568; (Cmecitry); Jean A. C. Graham, 572, (Algebra); Dorothy Grossman, 524, (Algebra); Nellie Harkness Hamilton, 561, (Geometry); Hilda Huddleston, 616, (Composition); Ellen Dorothy Jones-Evans, 505, (Algebra) and Latin Composition); Thomas James Keenan, 519, (Latin Authors and French Translation); Beryl Keown, 615, (Geometry); Arthur Eben Lewis, 569; (Algebra); Erna Louise Lorenz, 513, History and Latin Authors); Jean Elizabeth Martin, 594, (Latin Authors); Harold B. McDonald, 531, (Latin Authors and French Translation); Ethel Frances McPherson, 545, (Algebra); John Ratcliffe Maclean, 546, (Latin Authors and French Translation); Mabel Violet Eleanor Robertson, 580, (Geometry); Mildred Irene Robertson, 515, (Geometryfll Christeno Ross, 586, (Geometry); Edward Oliver Sommerville, 538, (English Literature); Gladys Maud Thoyse, 597, (Geometry); Harry John Coll Walker, 501, (Latin Authors); Otto John Weller, 545, (French Translation); Ernest Ronald Whittington, 525, (Algebra); Arthur William Wicks, 545, (Geometry and French Translation).

Senior Matriculation.

In the Senior matriculation examinations five supplementals were granted, physics evidently proving the chief stumbling block. The following were the students granted supplementals: Lora Charlotte Drury, 573, (Physics); Wilhelmina Marie Marquart, 525; (Physics); Margaret Elizabeth O'Neill, 534, (Physics); Harrington M. A. Rice, 527, (Chemistry and French Grammar); Irene Tennant, 568, (Geometry and Trigometry).

"PICTORIAL REVIEW."

"One of the most mysterious crimes ever committed" was the opinion of the Police Department in investigating the murder of Abner Bane last Tuesday night. On the night in question, Mrs. Lynn Lee was giving a party in honor of her only son, the rising young District Attorney, Lynn Lee. Among the guests was Mr. Thorsen Lind, the multimillionaire, with his adopted daughter, Miss Jane Lind, whose name Society gossips have frequently coupled with that of young Lee. Mr. Lind admits that Bane phoned him earlier in the evening asking for an appointment on urgent business, and that he invited him to call and see him at Mrs. Lee's house. Evidently Bane was on his way to keep his appointment, when he was struck down. It is known that he carried a packet of letters with him which are now missing. Who killed him? And what was the motive?" One will find the answers to these questions in Will Payne's thrilling 22,000-word novel published complete in the August issue of Pictorial Review.

DIE-HARD SUPERSTITIONS.

Over the door of almost any old farm-house or cottage you will find a horse-shoe nailed up. If you ask the owner why he has put it there, he will say, "For Luck."

Ask him where the luck comes in and ten to one he cannot tell you.

The origin of the superstition is interesting. From earliest times the moon, the new moon especially, has been looked upon as a lucky symbol, and the moon goddess was represented as wearing horns. In some old pictures Moses is shown as wearing horns when he descended from Mount Sinai.

Cock Crows—Evil Goes.

The horse-shoe nailed over our doors is nothing but the same crescent symbol, and should, of course, always be fixed with the points upwards.

The commonest ornament on harness is the Greek cross enclosed in a circle. This is the ancient symbol of the sun, and was originally used as a protection against witchcraft.

Upon old buildings the weather vane is so often seen in the form of a cock that we have come to speak of a wind vane as a "weather cock." In the Middle Ages the cock was considered the special enemy of the evil one. The idea was that all the evil influences of the night fled away at cock-crow.

Soldiers' Talisman.

The Boy Scouts' badge is the so-called swastika, which is probably the oldest symbol of the sun. It is believed that the swastika represents the plans of King Solomon's temple, built in such a way that no wind or tempest could have any effect upon it.

This same symbol is also employed in Freemasonry.

A charm which was carried by many men during the war is the scarab or sacred beetle of the Egyptians. It has a great reputation as a luck bringer, but few who own a scarab could tell you the origin of the belief.

It is this. The scarab beetle makes pellets of clay, in which it lays its eggs and leaves them to hatch. The little globes were considered by the Egyptians to be emblems of the sun, and also of immortality. And the tradition has never died out.—Tit-Bits.

A BLACK OUTLOOK.

Mrs. Smith found herself for the first time without a cook. She paid the highest wages, and suffered patiently from the carelessness and caprice of cooks.

After preparing several meals with her own fair hands, and gaining confidence in the art, she approached her husband with a brilliant proposition.

"What do you say, dear," she began' "if we do without a cook, and I keep the money for my very self? Suppose I cook for one month, what shall I get?"

"Well," said the brute of a husband, "by the end of one month you will probably get one of those long crepe veils."

In "A Westminster Pilgrim," Sir Frederick Bridge tells an amusing story of an aged singer in the choir of the Chapel Royal, who was taking an alto part in the anthem.

The words were, "The ungodly have laid a snare for me," and I suppose (writes Sir Frederick) that the ancient chorister, with his cracked voice, somewhat annoyed an old peer who sat immediately behind the choir, and was rather given to thinking aloud.

Anyway, when the singer had finished his sentence, "The ungodly have laid a snare for me," the old peer ejaculated, loudly enough to be heard by the choir, "I wish to Heaven they'd caught you.—Tit-Bits.

Girlish, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

Since its remarkable astringent and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the world have been using the saxolite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw flabby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels much firmer. The skin tightens evenly all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagginess. The formula is: Powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint.

This simple and harmless face bath is a splendid thing for the outdoor girl, since sun, wind and flying dust are so provocative of squinting and other contortions which cause wrinkles and crow's-feet. Also it is fine to freshen up a tired face in hot, depressing weather.

HERE TO EXAMINE WILLIAM HEAD LINE

Willis Chipman, C. E., Well-known Engineer, Will Be in Victoria One Week

Construction of the William Head pipe line, from Goldstream to the Quarantine Station, having been carried out from the design of Willis Chipman, C. E., for the Dominion Government, Mr. Chipman is now in the city to make a final examination before the transfer is completed.

The work entailed some special considerations from an engineering standpoint owing to the necessity of reducing so high a pressure to be of service along the line of distribution, and these details were carried out to the plans of Mr. Chipman.

The investigation which the well-known engineer will now conduct may occupy a week. Mr. Chipman stated to The Times yesterday that he intended to go out on the work to-day, and would stay here until his investigation was completed.

Mr. Chipman, who is an old friend of former City Engineer Rust, reports that Mr. Rust is now in practice in Toronto.

The line which Mr. Chipman designed is operated in conjunction with the city waterworks system, from the pressure main near Goldstream by way of the Happy Valley road, and Metchosin to the Quarantine Station. Instead of a notoriously poor supply, the station is now equipped with pure mountain water similar to that supplied to city consumers. Arrangements have been made between the Dominion Government and the city for the frontagers along the pipe line to receive the benefits of an adequate water supply.

WAR FACTS AND FIGURES.

These are some of the amazing facts in Sir Douglas Haig's final despatch:

General Headquarters received 9,000 telegrams in one day, and 3,400 letters by despatch riders. One army headquarters had 10,000 telegrams in a day, and the daily telegrams on the lines of communication were 23,000

There were 1,500 miles of telegraphs and telephones, and 3,688 miles of railways, on which 1,800 trains ran weekly.

In six weeks 5,000,000 rations were supplied, by our Armies in France, to 800,000 civilians in the relieved areas.

Two hundred tons dead weight of supplies and stores were required daily for the maintenance of each division.

The total daily ration strength of our Armies was 2,700,000. An addition of one ounce to each man's rations represented an extra 75 tons.

Over 400,000 horses and mules and 46,700 motor vehicles were used, and 4,500 miles of road made or maintained.

In 1914 there was one machine gun to 500 infantrymen in the British Army; at the Armistice there was one machine gun to 20 infantrymen.

Over 700,000 tons of ammunition were fired by our artillery on the Western Front from last August to the Armistice.

The number of individual landings at the ports managed by the British Armies in France exceeded 10,000,000 up to the Armistice; while in the last eleven months of the war the average weekly tonnage landed at those ports was 175,000 tons.—Tit-Bits.

TO REPLACE UNION JACK AT BOUNDARY

Board of Governors of Automobile Association Held Business Meeting

Following the customs of past years the Island Automobile Association will send a new Union Jack to the Canadian Customs House at White Rock, on the international boundary. This point on the Pacific Highway is the one where American motorists pass into Canadian territory, and the automobile club has maintained a flag there. Information from A. K. Westland, preventive officer, stated that the present flag is badly worn. Decision to this end was taken by the Board of Governors at the meeting last evening.

The secretary expressed the hope that the Canadian Pacific Railway would be induced to instal a lift at the dock, it being understood that the company contemplated having one installed at Nanaimo.

A letter was read from Manager James Baird, of The Seattle Times, in which he spoke of a contemplated visit to the Island with the automobile editor, Captain Edwards.

The membership committee was urged by President C. H. French to hurry the enlistment of every automobile owner in Victoria. A financial report was made by the finance committee and was considered satisfactory.

Steps were taken to safeguard further the strip maps compiled by the association.

Secretary Harris was asked to press the firm manufacturing the emblems, so that they may be ready for members within a week or two.

Wife (to husband): "Arthur, love, I want you to give Jack a good scolding to-morrow morning."

Husband: "What for? I am perfectly satisfied with the fellow."

Wife: "Well, you know, he has to beat the carpets to-morrow, and he strikes ever so much harder when he's in a bad temper."

DOING TRADE WITH THE NEW SERBIA

Openings for trade in which Canada might well participate are being more and more found, sometimes in unexpected places, in European countries. The Canadian Trade Commission quotes the following interesting facts from the report of the British Economic Mission in Serbia: "What Serbia needs Serbia is able to pay for. This may seem strange, but it is a fact that, apart altogether from indemnities for the damage done during the war, the peasant population and shopkeepers have plenty of money—in dinars and Austrian crowns. The explanation is simple. The people in the country during enemy occupation spent little or nothing on luxuries and all the while were receiving high prices for their goods and produce. They have sold but not bought, and are now in a position to buy largely. Payment in a form acceptable to manufacturers would be a difficulty, and much benefit would follow the establishment of a local British bank. It is the intention of the Government to withdraw at an early date enemy paper money in circulation, and to replace it with State paper money of the Kingdom of Serbia, Croatia and Slavonia (Jugo-Slavia). This state money will be in dinars and be under Government guarantee. The rate of conversion will be 30 dinars per 100 crowns. The total value of Austrian crowns now in circulation in the new Kingdom is estimated at about eight milliards. Other arrangements are being made in regard to a central exchange office.

"The population of old Serbia is about four millions, and of Jugo-Slavia ten millions. It is a backward country, but one with great possibilities. The people as customers incline, first of all, to England, and then to Allied countriees; failing England and the Allies they must go back to those enemies with whom they used to trade, and by whom their methods are well understood. If merchants and manufacturers wish to establish a footing in this market they must take steps at once to organize the necessary supplies."

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

They were travelling peacefully home in the lumbering market-wagon, when from the shadow on the side of the road there sprang two unkempt forms. Not much time was wasted in useless talking. The tramps, in an earnest and business-like manner, went through the pockets of the farmer and his daughter, turned them out of the market-wagon, and drove off in it themselves.

"Oh, dear!" wailed the old man; "this is a nice fix. Horse and wagon and money too—all gone!"

But the faithful daughter was there to comfort him.

"Not the money, father," she said. "I hid the purse in my mouth."

"In your mouth!" exclaimed the old farmer, gleefully. "Good for you! But what a pity your mother wasn't here. We might have saved the horse and wagon."

CALGARY MAY BE VENUE OF TITLE SOCCER TOURNEY

Would Give All Clubs in Canada an Opportunity to Compete

Calgary, July 30.—Calgary City Football League is anxious to stage the Connaught Cup finals at Hillhurst Park between September 8 and 13, during the visit of the Prince of Wales. Secretary Battrum to-night wired the Dominion football president guaranteeing the railway and sleeping car transportation to fourteen players of the winners of the Montreal-Toronto, Winnipeg and Port Arthur series, and Vancouver, provided the net proceeds of the elimination games are turned over to the local association. Calgary is considered here the logical place for such an important football tournament, as the park will accommodate 10,000 persons.

Vancouver, July 31.—As the Dominion Football Association will guarantee only $1,500 to the winners of the Alberta-British Columbia series for the trip to Montreal, a trip estimated to cost around $4,000, this offer of the Calgary club seems a very fair one, and one that should be better for the sport as under that arrangement the whole of Canada would be represented in the finals. Should the Dominion Football Association act unfavorably on such a proposal it will be the greatest argument possible for those who view D. F. A. affiliation without enthusiasm.

Con Jones, president of the Mainland Football Association, received a wire from Calgary yesterday to the effect that an emissary of the Hillhurst club, champions of Alberta, was on the way to Vancouver with a proposal regarding games here during the last Saturday in August and Labor Day, which comes September 1. Should Hillhurst come here local soccer fans will see the best the two provinces can offer, irrespective of what the D. F. A. does.

SHIPBUILDERS AGAIN IMPROVE PERCENTAGE

Five Runs in Eighth Innings Take Game from Straith-Two Jacks

The score read eight to three at the end of the sixth innings and with Zacarelli pitching good ball against the men with whom he was formerly associated on the baseball diamond, it looked as if the Straith-Two Jacks were going to get the points in the amateur baseball league at Royal Athletic Park last night. Then the shipbuilders staged another of their closing rallies this season and turned the tables in the last three innings. While the Straith-Two Jacks were held scoreless for the rest of the game, the two, five and two signs were hung up for the shipbuilders, making the score twelve to eight at the end of the last innings.

The game blew up for Frank Moore's men in the eighth. Two men were on bases when Finch came up and got a two-base hit which scored two men home. Three more followed before the innings closed.

VICTORIA WEST LACROSSE.

SETS NEW RECORD IN WINNING CHAMPIONSHIP

Hamilton, Ont., July 31.—The world's competitive record for 72 holes medal play of 283, tied last week at Cleveland by James Barnes, of St. Louis, who previously had set the record himself, was broken here yesterday by Douglas Edgar, of Atlanta, Ga., who, with a score of 278, won the Canadian open golf championship.

FINE PROGRAMME FOR SHAWNIGAN REGATTA

Dance in the Clubhouse in the Evening Will Wind Up Event

Fourteen aquatic events, in addition to several other features for entertaining the visitors promise to make Shawnigan Lake regatta, which is to be held August 9, equally as intresting as this famous regatta has proved in previous years. It is the fourteenth annual fixture, and being the first since the end of the war a lot of energy is being shown to make it a banner event this year.

The big event of the day will be the junior fours for the Walbank Cup between the Shawnigan Lake crew, and the J. B. A. A. oarsmen. Swimming, canoeing and Evinrude races are included on the programme.

The commodious clubhouse will be thrown open to visitors for a dance, which will undoubtedly prove an enjoyable conclusion to a successful function. An orchestra has been engaged and an open invitation is extended to all attending the regatta.

SHUFFLING THE STARS OF BIG BALL LEAGUES

New York, July 30.—At a conference here to-day attended by Harry Frazee, president of the Boston Americans, and Jacob Ruppert and T. L. Huston, owners of the New York Americans, the local club procured Pitcher Carl Mays from Boston in exchange for Pitchers Robert McGraw and Allen Russell, a third player to be selected later, and a cash sum said to be about $25,000. The New York Club was obliged to bid against the Chicago Americans, which submitted a straight cash proposition.

William Gleason, manager of the Chicago Americans, announced here today that he had signed the veteran pitcher, Patrick Ragan, who yesterday was released by the New York Nationals.

Mays left the club July 13, when it was in Chicago on its recent western tour. He is expected to report to New York to-morrow. He joined the Boston Club in 1914, and until this season was one of the club's most reliable pitchers.

VETERANS' TENNIS FINALS SET TO-MORROW; SATURDAY FINALS

New Trophy Presented by E. E. Jenkins—Visiting Players Will See Island Beauty Spots This Evening

The Victoria Lawn Tennis Club are to be congratulated on the expeditious and capable manner in which their huge entry for the B. C. championships are being disposed of. Fifty-eight matches on Tuesday and forty-two yesterday looks like a record number. The weather all day yesterday was perfect for tennis, with the result that the standard of play was unusually high in the majority of matches.

Perfect Weather.

The first match of the day, between Mrs. Wismer, late of Seattle, and now of Vancouver, and Mrs. Milne, of Vancouver, in which the former won after three long sets, two of them deuce sets, Mrs. Wismer going into the semi-finals, where she will meet Miss Lawson, the present B. C. ladies' single champion. If Mrs. Wismer plays the same strong game against Miss Lawson as she played against Mrs. Milne the spectators are due to see a record match on Friday.

The Berkeley Star.

Mrs. Cushing's strong forcing tactics and her cute forehand driving was the undoing of Mrs. Clute, who was defeated in straight sets.

Seattle Player Wins.

Miss Idiens, who won the championship of the Mainland last week, defeating Miss Lawson, was defeated by Miss Mayme Macdonald in straight sets, despite her praiseworthy efforts she was never able to solve the fine strategy and difficult cut strokes. Miss Macdonald plays with ease and freedom in every movement and is in every way a first class player. Mrs. Cushing, who has a similar style, plays Miss Macdonald in the semi-finals of the ladies' singles, and this also is being looked forward to with intense interest.

Fairbairn Efficient.

Fairbairn met Dr. Shannon, of Seattle, in the men's singles and succeeded in winning in straight sets, Dr. Shannon's brilliancy of strokes failing to break down the stonewall efficiency and steadiness of his opponent.

Garrett and Fairbanks got a surprise when Hudson and Grant took the first set from them in the men's doubles, sufficient to stir them up, so that the next two sets fell to them, 6-0, 6-0.

Keen Mixed Doubles.

The keenest matches so far in the tournament have been the mixed doubles. This was the case in the matches between McCallum and Miss Pitts, against Westwood and Miss Lawson and Peers and Mrs. Rickaby against Gordon and Miss Mayme Macdonald, the latter pair in each case being defeated after three sets, the last set in each case being a dense set, 9-7 and 8-6 respectively. Both matches were thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators and applause was generous and impartial, as one or another of the players made brilliant shots or an unexpected return. Another good mixed doubles was between McGill and Miss Cotsworth and Mr. and Mrs. Milne, which also took three sets.

Close Games To-day.

A number of the matches slated for to-day will be close and interesting and this is the case at each hour of the schedule which commenced at 2.30 p.m. No morning games will be played from this on except necessitated by delay on account of rain.

The Victoria Lawn Tennis Club and the tennis players of British Columbia generally are under a debt of gratitude for the splendid gift of a silver shield in connection with the men's doubles championship of British Columbia to Mr. E. E. Jenkins on behalf of Foundation Company. Mr. Jenkins is a keen all-round sportsman and takes great interest in tennis. The shield is never to be won outright, the names of the winners each year being inscribed upon the shield.

To See Beauty Spots.

The visiting players from the Mainland, U. S. A., and up-Island points will be taken for a drive to the Observatory this evening, leaving corner of Douglas and Fort Streets via the Beach Drive, Uplands and Gordon Head, under the guidance and direction of Mr. J. G. Brown, the president of the club, who has through the courtesy of Dr. Plaskett, been able to secure admission to the Observatory.

A Flannel Dance.

The flannel dance promises to be a great success, commencing to-morrow night at 9 o'clock in the Alexandra Hall. Invitations have been extended to all players in the tournament not members of the Victoria Club.

The semi-finals in all events will take place to-morrow, and the finals of the Veterans' championship at the same time. Finals on Saturday afternoon starting at 2.30 p. m. prompt.

KELLY DISMISSED ON CHARGE OF SHOOTING

Magistrate Jay Passes Comment on All Parties Concerned

Alfred Kelly, alias Ted Morris, was dismissed by Magistrate Jay in the Police Court this morning on a charge of wounding with intent to maim J. W. Cahill.

In delivering his verdict the magistrate pointed out that the story was very discreditable to all parties concerned. From the evidence it seemed that Cahill had been shot in the leg by a pistol in the hands of Kelly. It also seemed that both men had been on terms of immoral familiarity with a woman, and as was customary in cases of that kind the counsels had sought for a motive which caused the offence. The motive which was set up was one of jealousy regarding the woman.

The magistrate stated that there was a singular feature in connection with the offence. It was committed on July 4. While the informant was confined to the hospital the accused visited him and took him things to eat and read. During all that time Cahill made no accusations of the charge which had just been heard. The magistrate was of the opinion that Cahill did not believe the shooting had been done with intent until he had conversed with another member of the Smith family, when he learned of Kelly's intimacy with Julian Smith. It would be equally consistent the magistrate said, to believe that Cahill had been moved by jealousy to lay the charge, as Kelly was moved by a similar motive to shoot the informant.

The court, in dismissing Kelly, advised him to sever his connections with the Smith family.

Any one suffering from bowel complaints such as diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, summer complaint, etc., will find that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will give quicker and more permanent relief than any other remedy on the market to-day.

This old tried and proven medicine has been on the market for the past 74 years. You don't experiment when you buy it. Surely the test of time proves this.

Mrs. Daniel Hartwick, Mountain Grove, Ont., writes: "I used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and have found that it is a good remedy. When my little girl was 2½ years old she had a very bad attack of bowel complaint. Nothing prescribed by the doctor seemed to do her any good. She got worse, until we thought we would lose her. I got a bottle of 'Dr. Fowler's' and she soon found relief. Every one who has children should not be without it in their home.

Price 35 cents a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DESERTER GETS OFF WITH A HEAVY FINE

A. E. Gray, Farmer on Galiano Island, Pays $250 in Police Court This Morning

Charged with deserting from the First Depot Battalion on June 9, 1918, Albert Edward Gray appeared in the Police Court this morning. He pleaded guilty and Magistrate Jay imposed a fine of $250 or in default three months in jail.

Gray enlisted in Vancouver under the Military Service Act and was sent here for training. In June he disappeared, and nothing further was seen or heard of him until a few days ago when he was arrested at his father's farm on Galiano Island.

Gray informed the magistrate that his only reason for desertion was that he did not wish to leave his father alone on the farm.

Is Decorated.—Included in the recent birthday honors list is Sergt. H. N. Monk, who has been awarded the Meritorious Service Medal in recognition of his valuable services overseas. Sergt. Monk came to Victoria early in 1916 from Revelstoke, where he was connected with the Forest Mills Lumber Co., and he enlisted immediately in the 103rd Battalion. At present he is occupying a position with the Harbor Marine Co. and is prominent in the sport and entertainment activities of the Harbor Marine Veterans' Shipbuilding Association.

UNCOMFORTABLE CONSISTENCY.

(From the Boston Transcript.)

"Twenty-five dollars fine," said the justice of the peace.

"Oh, now, see here, judge," said the culprit, "be consistent. I wasn't going a bit faster than I was last summer when I was hauled up and you acquitted me."

"All right," said the justice, "if you feel that way about it, we'll make it $50, covering both offences."

OPEN NIGHT AT "Y" CAMP TO-MORROW

Friends Invited to Pay a Visit Between Hours of 8.30 and 10.30

To-morrow will be an open night at the Y.M.C.A. camp at the Gorge, where the capacity of the camp has been taxed since the opening in May of "Y" members, who have been finding the vacation crowded with fun from the necessary early rising time in the morning until lights out at night. To show relatives and friends how comfortable they are in the camp the holiday makers are extending a general invitation and are planning one or two stunts characteristic of camp life, and a few musical numbers to make the evening enjoyable.

From 8.30 to 10.30 visitors are invited to visit the camp, and the versatile fun makers assure the visitors of an enjoyable time. Pillow fighting on poles and a number of impromptu events are to be staged.

Victoria Swimming Club Has Twelve Entries for Swim

George Corkle Will Carry Y.M.C.A. Colors With Gordon Young and Harold Sewell — Entries Will Remain Open Until Noon To-morrow

The mail and messengers kept a steady stream of entries flowing into The Times office for the long distance swim from the Causeway to the Gorge Saturday afternoon, and the entry to date is a record. This morning the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club looked like heading the list for the number of competitors, although the V. I. A. A. list, which is to be completed during the day, will probably run them close or pass the V. A. S. C.'s total.

The swimmers to represent the V. A. S. C., according to the entries put in this morning are:

The V. A. S. C.

Polly Clyde, Rosie Robertson, Gracise Wellburn, Kathleen Wellburn, Florie Gates, Robert W. Hibberson, James Allan, George Silburn, Earl Y. Squire, Gerald T. Wellburn, John T. Marshall, John Davidson.

The Y. M. C. A.

Entries received from the Y. M. C. A. to date are:

George Corkle, Gordon D. Young, H. F. Sewell.

It is understood that Johnny Wengers is another Y. M. C. A. representative of the club who has been training, and is a probable starter.

Of the Victoria Club swimmers Jock McNeill has lately returned from three years' service. He has a wonderful side stroke, and is worth seeing, he certainly makes swimming look easy. He should be well to the front provided the cold water does not get him before getting to Point Ellice. He also holds the 440 yards British Columbia championship.

Jack Marshall is a big fellow, and swims trudgeon. He is a sticker in cold water, and should be well to the front.

Jerry Wellburn, popular secretary of the V. A. S. C. He has a powerful trudgeon stroke, and is a good man on the sprint. This is his second attempt at long distance. He comes of a swimming family.

Earl Squires, a young swimmer of promise, is good on the sprints. This is his first long distance race. This lad is a comer. He swims crawl all the time.

George Silburn, a young swimmer who has greatly improved since the start of the season. He has developed a wonderful crawl stroke, and should be able to do the distance.

Jimmy Allen, a well-known soccer football player, was captain of the Foundation team last year. He is also a great enthusiast on swimming. This is his first attempt at distance, but he is in good shape, and should go the limit.

Miss Grace Wellburn, one of the club's best distance swimmers in the ladies section. She should be able to go the distance with ease, and should be a strong finisher.

Miss Rosie Robertson, one of the lastest sprint swimmers in the club, will now try out on the long course.

Miss Rolly Clyde, a coming swimmer. This young lady has a powerful breast stroke, and should be able to go the distance.

Flo Gates, aged thirteen, one of the young girls of the V. A. S. C., who swam the distance from C. N. R. to the V. A. S. C. Club house. This young lady is improving right along, and should make the distance.

Kathie Wellburn, aged twelve, the coming lady swimmer of Victoria. It is predicted by those who know that this young girl will be the best swimmer in ladies' events in Victoria in the next two years. She swims trugdeon crawl, and can certainly go along at a fast clip.

Bob Hibberson, the genial vice-president of the V. A. S. C. Bob is one of the most enthusiastic swimmers of the club. He has lots of pep, and should be a strong finisher.

Young Will Do Crawl.

The Y. M. C. A. members are optimistic over their chances. George Corkle is regarded as a likely winner, not only by the Y. men, but by many of the other experts who have been watching the swimmers train. George is a well conditioned athlete and an ideal man for an endurance test. Gordon Young, the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Club, also looks like making a race all the way for any of the competitors. Gordon intends using the crawl stroke for a good part of the way and using the side stroke for variation. Both swimmers have been taking regular swims from the C. N. R. bridge to the Y. M. C. A. camp and finishing as though they have lots in hand. Johnny Wenger, although his entry has not been received to date, is expected to start. His friends believe that he could swim the breast stroke all the way and make a good showing. There will be considerable disappointment if the Captain Webb of the Y. camp is not among the starters.

Entries Close To-morrow.

It has been deemed advisable to keep open the entry list until noon to-morrow. The time for the race has not definitely been set, but it will probably start at 2.30 or 3 o'clock, this hour proving the most suitable for the swimmers, as far as can be arranged in accordance with the tide.

Must Have a Pilot.

Competitors are again reminded that a pilot is necessary. Cramp is liable to attack the most experienced distance swimmer, and it is essential that a canoe, boat or a launch be on hand in such an event. Entries will be asked the name of the pilot and if he or she is on hand before starting the race.

Norman Yarrow has generously granted the use of Yarrow's launch for the occasion, and A. Baker will accompany the swimmers representing the shipbuilders' club. Referee W. H. Spalding will rove around in his own launch properly to discharge the duties of referee, and a launch will be provided for the officials of the race. A. J. Dallain, Acting Agent of the Marine and Fisheries Department, will patrol the course.

Veterans Win.

A team of veteran cricketers played a team of ladies, assisted by some "camouflaged ladies," at the Jubilee grounds yesterday, and the veterans had no difficulty in winning the game. The ladies only made 53 runs, and not one player managed to reach double figures. The assistance of male players to bowl was secured by the ladies' team, but the veterans piled up a score of 105. Goepel headed the scorers with 23, and the Rev. J. W. Flinton played a neat innings for 22 before he fell a victim to one of the lady bowlers. Score:

A picked team of Foundation players met a Five C's team at the Jubilee Hospital last night, the shipbuilders losing by eighty-three runs to 112. The Foundation team batted first and Foulds with sixteen runs was the highest scorer. Jordan, of the Albions, who played with the Five C's team, was the star of the match, taking four wickets for nine runs, and making thirty-seven not out. Austin made twenty-seven runs.

At a league meeting held last night, P. C. Payne was elected chairman of the committee for the tournament for the week to be held August 18. Messrs. Godson, Tucker, Tunnard and Bencroft were elected members of the committee, the latter gentlemen to look after the Vancouver end of the event.

The teams are assured from Vancouver, and one from Nanaimo. Efforts are being made to secure entries from Calgary, and a joint eleven of Seattle and Portland players.

THE HOUSING QUESTION.

To the Editor,—At the present time there seems to be a great deal of talk about the housing problem, and it is a problem which this city will have to solve if the present congestion exists for any length of time. People are being turned out of their homes by the score on account of them being sold over their heads, the majority being returned soldiers, forced out to make way very often for some one who has been working at home for big money.

There was lots of shouting and talk about the heroes who were going to defend their hearth and home when the boys left; now when it is all over what do we find—turned out and nowhere to go except a barn or some place. He has either to do that or turn in his gratuity money to the coffers of some real estate agent as part payment on a house, with a balance to pay which he may find it hard to meet. What has the city done? It has protected the interest of the real estate men here at the expense of the men who made it possible for them to carry on their business. The city of Victoria monument to her returned men is one of base ingratitude. It was simple to accept the Federal loan and give it to these former fighting men on straight loans and let them build their own homes. Why can't some returned men who are interested in this get together and protest against the city's action in this matter?

FAMINE RELIEF FUND.

To the Editor,—Mr. Agnew's letter in this morning's Colonist, in which he reports that during the months of May, June and July he collected and remitted contributions to this much needed fund amounting to $525 must be gratifying to the very sympathetic and charitable residents of Victoria. Permit me to say that during the months mentioned, the Presbyterians of Victoria, in response to an urgent appeal for assistance from the Rev. Dr. Wilkie, Veteran Presbyterian Missionary in the stricken district, have contributed and remitted $406 for the sufferers. Dr. Wilkie's report confirms the terrible tales of distress mentioned in Mr. Agnew's letter.

I feel sure that all right-minded, philanthropic people will endorse Mr. Agnew's views of the claims these very destitute, but worthy subjects of the King have upon us. Many tag days have been utilized for the assistance of our own, and allied countries' sufferers during and since the war, all of which I think have been loyally and liberally supported; and, though latterly, there has been a protest against the continuance of such a mode of raising money, would it not be a most laudable and charitable act, alike pleasing to God and man, for our city fathers to permit and appoint an early tag day for this most worthy cause?

In this fair land of ours there is an outcry against the high cost of living, but who in this beautiful and prosperous city, as he reads these distressing reports of starvation, and especially of the starving children being turned away to die, because there was no food for them, could not and would not desire to contribute something for the alleviation of such suffering. A tag day would afford an opportunity for even poor people to contribute to this very worthy fund, while others who are abundantly able to do so would doubtless gladly avail themselves of the opportunity.

WHAT IS A PROFITEER?

To the Editor,—I am a little slow in "coming back" this time, but the high temperature of Ottawa is really as distressing as the high cost of living and takes more out of you. I believe in keeping cool in discussing such a perplexing subject. Besides, I have been out of town a good deal of the time and rather busy.

You say if I had only waited a few days more for the "revelations" about textiles and profits of milling companies I might have written a second and a third postscript apologizing for the profiteers. I may say that the evidence given before the Cost-of-Living Committee—and I have read it very carefully—has not altered my opinion on the general aspects of the question at issue, nor has it, in my opinion, thrown any new light upon the real causes of what there has been so much complaint about. And I feel very certain the reason is that people are looking where they will not find it. It is true there were some statements made which were sensationally featured in the newspapers and which, without reference to the whole text of the evidence, gave an entirely wrong and misleading impression.

I am not defending "profiteers," although one suspicious individual in Ottawa who had read my letter in The Colonist was kind enough to say that I ought to be now in a position to get my supply of bacon very cheap. As bacon and canned meats don't figure in my bills of fare, I told him I didn't think his hint was really of any value to me. As a matter of fact, I have not yet seen any person who can tell me what a "profiteer" is. The gentleman, whoever or whatever he may be, has not found his way into the dictionary yet. If he be a man who makes a profit on his business, I am afraid there are a lot of respectable sinners in the world. If he be a man who makes an illegal profit, then there is a legal means of punishing him. You will probably tell me he is a man who makes an "undue profit." Well, granted. What is an undue profit? On what would you figure his profit—the rate per article sold, the rate on the turnover, or the rate on the capital invested? If any one of these, should the profit be five or eight or ten per cent., or what? How would you discriminate between the man who made a large profit on a small business—just sufficient, say, to live on in these days of high cost of living—and the man who made a small rate of profit on a very large business, but whose aggregate profits were very large? Where or how would you draw the line, say, in your own business? These are questions which a newspaper or a public man should answer before criticizing too freely the successful business man. I have read a great many comments on the evidence before the Cost of Living Committee, and without designating particular men or firms "robbers," "grafters," "swindlers," deserving penitentiary, were among the mild terms used. If reduced to particulars or persons, I am sure the writers would have been much more discreet in the use of language. The report of the committee who heard all the evidence did not bear out any such inference and there was nothing in the evidence to justify it.

The late Mr. Woolworth, who had probably thousands of ten and fifteen cent stores all over America, died and left an estate valued at $50,000,000 or $60,000,000. I saw many references to him in the press and nothing but praise for a man who started with nothing and amassed, by industry and intelligence, this vast fortune by what must have been infinitesimal profits on millions of articles daily in an immense turnover. In any other circumstances, it might have been asked: "How could a man have made so much money, honestly and squarely, in a lifetime?" Somebody long ago said that no man could possibly earn a million dollars in a lifetime, and that, therefore, what wasn't earned was got at the expense of all the rest of the people. It may be so, but nobody has yet told us exactly what a man should or could earn. I am reminded of a Swiss Socialist editor who for years argued that no person in the world should have more money than any other person. One day his uncle died and left him £50,000. In the next issue the editor announced that after very careful and prayerful study of the whole subject of wealth, he was prepared to revise his former opinions, but he thought there should be some limit to the wealth any one man should possess, and suggested that it should be fixed at £50,000.

Take another instance. It is popularly supposed that the head of the Eaton firm is in receipt of the largest daily income of any business man in Canada, packers included. Nobody has ever suggested that the Eatons are profiteers, and I am very sure that the good newspapers of Toronto and Winnipeg would be the last to suggest that there should be an investigation of their business on that score. If their business methods did not warrant it, they would not get the business they do.

What was obvious to the Committee of High Cost of Living and is obvious to every student of the subject everywhere is that cases of "excessive" profits are incidental to a condition that is universal and have always existed whether the cost of living was high or low. War has made prices abnormal all over America and Europe and even in remote parts of the world. The protests are also universal. You and many others blame it on profiteering or the tariff or both. Many, many fortunes were made in Canada and the United States when prices were low. For years the tin tariff was higher in Canada and the United States than to-day and there were no complaints about high prices. In saying so, I am neither discussing nor defending the present system of profitmaking or tariff. I am simply stating facts within the knowledge of everybody. The Committee at Ottawa did the only thing reasonable in the circumstances and that was to recommend a means—it may not have been the best one—to curb or restrain profits in cases where they were the result of monopoly, restraint of trade or other unfair methods.

What I have contended is that an era of industrial prosperity, which began thirty years ago, has gradually raised the standard of living, and what you enjoy in improvements and conveniences and luxuries, you must pay for. The war, producing what is known as "scarcity demand," has simply emphasized a condition that was emphatic enough before the war started. As to one factor alone, Labor was entitled to a larger share in the prosperity it helped to create, and if the labor costs from fifty to one hundred per cent. more than it used to, you must pay more for what labor produces. As I said in a former letter, I do not personally begrudge what it costs me if Labor is benefitted to that or any extent. I have discussed in a former letter the results in increased taxation to Victoria from a programme of betterment and beautification, which everybody wanted, and which is reflected in rents and directly in the cost of living and of doing business in that city. Victoria wanted, a few years ago, paved streets, boulevards, cluster lights and all the rest of it, and it got them and is paying for them. That is a local condition which is reflected universally.

There is another phase of the question of business profits that is being seriously overlooked and it is in connection with our heavy war obligations, heavier than ten years ago it was thought possible Canada could stand up under. The interest on our public debt at the end of this year will be three times greater than the entire annual revenues of Canada thirty years ago. The next election will probably be fought out on the tariff issue, and there is a very large percentage—possibly a majority—of the electorate which will favor what is practically free trade. At all events, possibly the tariff will be reduced to a minimum as a source of revenue and will fall altogether on luxuries. The farmers as a body, and they represent the largest source of wealth in the country, say that their income in the average is not sufficient to come within the taxable limits, and the returns of last year, which are almost negligible as compared with our requirements, would indicate that that is true. Without a tariff, therefore, the farmers will contribute but little in cash towards paying off the war debt or anything else. As a rule working men, who have free schools, often free text books for their children, and enjoy all the benefits of the state, will pay no income tax on the scale of present exemption. Without any tax on the "necessaries of life," they, too, will not contribute anything indirectly in taxes to the general revenues. The class who are our first and greatest consideration, and respecting whom we gladly and justly assume the burden of pensions—a statutory addition to our annual liabilities—settlement and re-establishment cannot be expected to and naturally cannot pay much towards liquidating a war they helped to win. I refer to the returned soldiers. There is, in addition to all this, the upkeep and development of the country—Victoria, among other things is going to get a dry-dock costing several millions of dollars—the railways, the housing, the road-building, the shipbuilding—an enormous programme altogether.

All this may be all right, and I am venturing no opinions on matters of public policies, but what I wish to make clear is that it means, in the financial and fiscal circumstances of the country I have endeavored to outline, the burden and responsibility of it all must fall, mainly, on the business community, and to a large extent on organized industry and enterprise. Everybody cannot escape. If, therefore, we look to profits on business to meet our tremendous obligations—and there is nothing on green earth out of which they can be paid, and remain solvent—is it wisdom to be everlastingly harping on profit-making as a crime? If we are going to tie down hand and foot the business community with all kinds of restrictions and regulations—with even the threat of penitentiary hanging over its head if it goes beyond a certain measure of success—how are we to produce and develop and "achieve our destiny" and all the rest of it. To my mind it is like binding a man's hands behind his back and asking him to defend himself in a fight.

Are not the present taxes on business profits sufficiently high, if we are not to dry up the sources of most of our expected revenues? If a man pays into the treasury from 10 to 75 per cent. of his profits, according to schedule, is he not entitled in a legitimate way to the remainder, however large. There is not a newspaper in Canada that would not welcome a new industry in its town, but new industries, if I might venture to repeat a very impolitic remark made in evidence, do not come to town for the "glory of God" but for the benefit of those who invest money in them.

I should have liked to have analyzed the evidence before the Ottawa Committee and to have presented some, what I considered to be constructive suggestions I submitted to the Industrial Commission and to the High Cost of Living Committee, but I have already occupied altogether too much space.

INCREASE FALLS ON THE CONSUMERS

Higher Price of Coal in Britain Raises Prices of Goods

London, July 31.—Surprised and shocked by the Government's announcement that coal is to cost the consumer the equivalent of $1.50 more a ton because of increased wages, shorter hours for the miners and steadily decreased production, the British manufacturers have been calculating just how much they must add to the prices of their products in order to maintain the accustomed level of profit.

The Federation of British Industries, representing well over $5,000,000 invested capital, has made public the following statement of increased prices under the new coal charge:

Engineering products, 3 to 10 per cent.; textiles, 3 to 4 per cent.; metal trades, 2 to 6 per cent.; chemicals, 10 per cent.; gas and electricity, 10 per cent.; paper, the equivalent of $2 per ton; salt, per ton, $1.50.

In the building trades increased costs will be: For steel, the equivalent of $6 a ton; brick, 5 per cent.; glass, 5 to 10 per cent.; drain pipe, $1.50 per ton.

Quotations Withdrawn.

The steel trade took immediate alarm and when the announcement was made promptly withdrew all quotations, pointing out the difficult position which the industry was placed in, as already British manufacturers were being undersold in the home market by American steel-makers.

The Grimsby fleshermen also made their position very plain, declaring they could not operate their steam trawlers with the new priced coal and sell fish at the old prices.

In Manchester it was pointed out that the smaller industries would be the most seriously affected, while leading coal operators said they would receive nothing from the advance.

The public generally also took alarm when it was pointed out that with coal at the new price it would have to consent to increases in gas prices that would make up a deficiency every year of about $36,000,000.

TROOPS NOW KEEP ORDER IN CHICAGO

race riots were in urgent need of food, he gave orders facilitating delivery of supplies to the colored belt, and as a result many wagonloads of food were sent where relief was seriously needed.

Oscar Nelson, thirty-two years old, a white man, was found in a West Side street with two serious stab wounds in his chest. The police believe he was the victim of a race riot attack.

Soldiers Keep Order.

Chicago, July 31.—The main negro quarters of Chicago to-day were patrolled 6,000 soldiers, accounted as for war, after four nights of race rioting that caused thirty deaths, seventeen negroes and thirteen white men, and the injury of nearly 1,000 persons, 200 of whom were severely hurt and a dozen of whom may die of wounds. No deaths were reported during the night, but many injuries and fires were recorded.

Governor Frank O. Lowden ordered the troops out last night on a request of Mayor Thompson after darkness had brought renewed rioting and the city's 3,000 policemen found themselves exhausted.

Fighting kept up after the troops reached their stations shortly before midnight and one squad of soldiers had to fight a crowd of negroes to reach its station at 41st Street and Wabash Avenue, while other soldiers were fired on from ambush on the way to duty. No soldier was killed or wounded and after the troopers had taken their places, disorders died down within the region patrolled.

Concerted Attack.

Mayor Thompson's decision to request the aid of state troops was reached after his secretary and General Dickson had gone through the zone where white men and negroes had clashed so many times since Sunday and he had received reports from private investigators who told him that many small athletic clubs were arranging to make a concerted attack on the negroes.

General Dickson reported that the situation was "ominous," and Chief of Police Garrity presented a tabulation of two policemn slain and thirty-one injured. The Fire Chief told the Mayor that firemen and answered forty fire alarms to quench blazes in negro homes. With this information at hand, the Mayor hastily telephoned Governor Lowden and General Dickson to order the soldiers on duty.

Quickly Moved.

Within a minute orders were flashed to the various armories where the soldiers had been quartered for two days. Army trucks began to pull up at the more distant barracks almost immediately and the soldiers sprang aboard. Soldiers housed nearer to the scene of action formed in companies and marched to their stations.

As the phalanxes swung along with steady stride into the riot area, rifles on their shoulders and cartridges on their hips, the roughs who had been treading the pavement looking for fight disappeared. Some of the gangs sped to territory hitherto undisturbed by terrorism and resumed their unlawful occupation, but most of the marauders, as rain began to fall, retired for the night.

Many Were Pleased

The law-abiding negroes who had not participated in the rioting and had been herded within doors for three days for fear of attacks, rushed outdoors as the tramp of the military echoed on the streets in the colored belt, watching with lightened countenances the march of the men in khaki.

As each regiment reached its headquarters the men were split into patrols of eight, who were sent out under non-commissioned officers to see that order was preserved. Even the truculent negroes for the most part refrained from fighting the soldiers, and by two o'clock in the morning all was quiet in the troop-guarded territory.

Negroes Captured

Before the troops had all been assigned there were some minor clashes with roughs, however. The first melee occurred in front of the shop base for the motor transport corps at 51st Street and Wabash Avenue. Nine negroes, armed with revolvers, drove back and forth in front of the base, firing promiscuously, but hitting no one. A squad of soldiers soon came up and gave chase, capturing the negroes after firing several shots at them. Ten revolvers and several razors were taken from the negroes, who were then turned over to the police.

Snipers Fired

Major Macey was in command of six companies of troops. A platoon of his men was fired on by snipers at 58th Street and Racine Avenue. None of the soldiers were hit and when they scattered and sought their assailants the latter disappeared.

While the soldiers were taking their stations a crowd of whites surrounded the home of John Coles, a negro policeman, and rained bullets on him and his wife. The house was severely damaged before policemen came to the rescue.

BOLSHEVIK WAS KILLED IN SWEDEN

Ten Russians Arrested in Stockholm Following Nikolai Ardasjeff's Death

London, July 31.—Ten persons, including a Russian general and a colonel and several women, have been arrested in connection with the death of Nikolai Ardasjeff, a prominent member of the Russian colony in Stockholm, says a Stockholm message dated Wednesday, forwarded by the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Copenhagen.

Ardasjeff has been missing since July 3 and it now develops that he was murdered. He is declared to have had close connections with the Russian Bolshevik and the Stockholm message says it is believed he was killed by supporters of the old regime.

The police are reticent, but it has leaked out, the dispatch says, that Ardasjeff was made prisoner by several of his countrymen and conducted to a villa outside of Stockholm where he was sentenced to death by a court-martial, susbsequently being hanged and his body thrown into the sea.

MEXICANS SPY ON OIL COMPANIES

Secret Service Men Watching Foreign Concerns in Tampico Field

Washington, July 31.—Advices from Mexico City to-day report the sending of a number of secret service men into the oil fields at Tampico in an endeavor to secure evidence against foreign oil companies operating in that region. The attention of the State Department has been called to the action, which is believed to be another move on the part of the Mexican Government to bring about confiscation of the foreign-owned oil properties. It was charged that the foreign oil companies were aiding revolutionists, but according to a State Department official the rebel Pelaez is the only person, aside from the Carranza authorities, who is receiving any aid from the companies.

Pelaez, it was explained, is being paid a salary for protection of the oil-fields south of Tampico. The salary is apportioned among the various foreign companies and has been approved by the State Department here and by the British, Dutch and French Foreign Offices.

WHEAT PURCHASING BOARD TO BE NAMED

J. Stewart, Winnipeg, Probably Will Be Head of Dominion Body

Ottawa, July 31.—The Government to-day is considering appointments to the Wheat Purchasing Board. It is intended to complete the appointments as early as possible, although perhaps another day or two will be necessary. James Stewart, of Winnipeg, probably will head the Board. Hon. T. A. Crerar, former Minister of Agriculture, has also, it is understood, been asked to serve on the Board, but it is doubtful, owing to business pressure, if he will be able to accept.

Advisory Board.

A proposal under consideration is that there shall be created a general advisory board consisting of eight or nine members and representatives of the various interests—production, handling and milling. The consumers, it is suggested, might be represented through a representative of organized labor. From this general board there would be an inner board of two or three selected to taken in hand the actual purchase and sale of the wheat.

The Board probably will be given jurisdiction also over the purchase and sale of certain wheat products, the idea being that it should act as a general selling agency.

PLANS FOR TOUR OF PRINCE OF WALES

London, July 30.—(Reuter's).—The Admiralty has issued the programme of His Majesty's Ships Renown, Dragon and Dauntless for the visit of the Prince of Wales to Newfoundland and Canada. The Prince will embark on the Renown at Portsmouth on August 5, and transfer at sea to the Dragon on arrival in Canadian waters. He will re-embark on the Renown off Charlottetown on August 10, finally disembarking at Quebec after arrival there on August 21.

OBJECTORS RELEASED.

Ottawa, July 31.—Practically all conscientious objectors to military service have been released from jail. The policy has been to take each case on its merits. Investigations were made and reports obtained. Where a man was found to be a bona fide conscientious objector a maximum sentence was served of about six months. When a man was shown to be "slacking," the sentence was longer. In April there were between forty and fifty cases under inquiry by the Solicitor-General. Since then twenty-five of the men have been liberated.

INLAND REVENUE

Ottawa, July 31.—During June war taxes collected by the Department of Inland Revenue totalled $1,378,025. The total revenue of the Department from all sources for the month was $4,586,088, a large increase over the month of June, 1918, when the revenue amounted to $2,993,630. The largest source of revenue for the month was tobacco, the excise taxes on which brought $2,425,650 to the Dominion Treasury.

FIRE ON BRITISH STEAMER.

New York, July 31.—The British steamship Maraval, owned by the Trinidad Shipping & Trading Company, loading here with general cargo and scheduled to sail for Trinidad, caught fire at her Brooklyn pier yesterday, and was badly damaged. The fire was confined to the bows of the ship.

After the fire was under control the vessel listed heavily to port, and all but turned over. No one was injured.

TO BUILD RAILWAYS IN THE COLONIES

British Government Is Planning Extensive Development Work in Areas

London, July 31 (Reuter's)—An extensive railway construction policy for the colonies of the British Empire was foreshadowed in remarks made by Lieut.-Col. L. E. C. Amery, Under-Secretary of the Colonial Office, while the estimates of the Colonial Office were under discussion in the House of Commons.

Col. Amery opened his speech by emphasizing the immensity of the patriotic efforts of the Dominions and the Crown Colonies during the war. They might be gauged by noting the sum total of military efforts in the field before armistice day, either measuring by the number of lives sacrificed, the numbers of the enemy killed or captured or the total number of hours spent in the trenches. Both Canada and Australia individually had contributed greater military efforts than the United States with a population of over 100,000,000 people. Moreover, the efforts of the Crown Colonies had been far greater than was generally realized. In every part of the Empire the white people had contributed as high a quota as any community in the world. Over two-thirds of the males of East Africa, and also Rhodesia had taken the field.

Combatant native troops were of considerable number, continued Colonel Amery, and their fighting value was recognized by all commanding generals. West African forces, the King's African Rifles and the West Indies Regiment had totalled 80,000 combatants and over 500,000 carriers and other auxiliaries had been recruited in African colonies. Moreover, native chiefs to the humblest folk everywhere had lavished gifts on the Red Cross and other funds.

Financial Aid

All the colonies had contributed substantially to the cost of the war from revenue, declared Colonel Amery, incurring liabilities larger than prudence would have allowed. Therefore, he hoped this would be remembered when development and reconstruction in the colonies was being considered.

Colonel Amery emphasized that reconstruction meant far more than restoration to pre-war conditions. There must be established a new and more positive standard in their duty toward the peoples to which Parliament was responsible as a trustee. Their territories of boundless possibilities urgently called for development in the interests of their own inhabitants and an impoverished world.

Improvements

Colonel Amery declared that British colonial administration had been the best in the world before the war, and stated that in future it was going to be greatly improved on, especially as regards large territories assigned to Great Britain as mandatory. To accomplish this he said the Colonial Office service must be brought to the highest state of efficiency. The railways in the Crown Colonies must be multiplied. In the Dominions there were thirteen miles of railways per 1,000 square miles, but in the Crown Colonies only 4.8 miles. Hence there was a prima facie case for a very great programme of railway construction.

Dominions as Nations

In concluding Colonel Amery drew attention to the remarkable constitutional developments in the relations with the Dominions. A fact which that at the Peace Conference the full most impressed the outside world was equality of the Dominions with the Motherland had been recognized, not only by Great Britain but also by other governments. He was convinced this new departure would go to the greatest lengths in effectively cementing forever Imperial unity.

RELEASE OF POLITICAL PRISONERS IN GERMANY

Berlin, July 30.—Via London, July 31.—(Associated Press.)—The majority of the political prisoners who have been on a hunger strike for several days probably will be released, Gustav Noske, Minister of Defence, told the German National Assembly yesterday.

His announcement was made in response to a motion by the Independents in the Assembly calling for the release of political prisoners. Minister Noske said an investigation had been ordered, and that it would probably result in the release of a large number.

SLUMP IN NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

Advance in Call Money Rates to Fifteen Per Cent. Caused Liquidation

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)

New York, July 31.—Holders of stocks had difficulty in placing loans to-day. The call rate advanced to 15 per cent. A great deal of money was wanted and little offered. Forced liquidation increased in volume throughout the day and new low levels for the movement were made in many issues. The reaction was general and was looked for. The market has given signs of being in an overbought condition for some time and money has been withdrawn by the West for crop movement purposes.

AMUSEMENTS TO-DAY

Princess—Mr. Reginald N. Hincks presents Princess Players in "Tantalizing Tommy," and "Kitty Clive."

Pantages—Vaudeville.

Dominion — Mary Pickford in "Daddy Long Legs."

Variety—Taylor Holmes in "Ruggles of Red Gap."

Royal Victoria — Nazimova in "Out of the Fog."

Columbia—Gladys Leslie in "Wild Primrose."

Romano—Bill Harte in "The Night Stage."

ROYAL VICTORIA

In her latest picture, "Out of the Fog," at the Royal Victoria again to-night, Nazimova presents entirely a new character, that of a young girl who has been brought up by a half crazed grandfather and who knows nothing of books or of human kind. Suddenly the light pierces through the fog of her life and she breaks the four walls of the prison which bars her from happiness. It is a story of the sea, wonderfully beautiful in scening and the greatest piece of acting ever seen. As a play it was called "'Ception Shoals," and was regarded as the greatest triumph of Nazimova's stage career.

The star received brilliant support from Charles Bryant Henry Hamilton and Tom Blake among others. The picture was adapted for the screen by June Mathis and Albert Capellani, and produced by M. Capellani. The production he has given the drama is identically in tune with it, and from the standpoint of photography and appropriate scenic investiture, "Out of the Fog" remains in a class by itself.

DOMINION

"Daddy Long Legs," in which Mary Pickford has the most appealing role of her career, and which is being presented at the Dominion, is one of the most celebrated stories of the past decade. It first appeared in the Ladies' Home Journal, where it was hailed as the most humanly interesting serial in the history of that publication.

A Tremendously Successful Book.

It soon followed in book form, and was read in every city of the English-speaking world. One million copies were sold, so that Jean Webster, a young woman not long out of college, made a fortune from this single work. Of course the stage claimed it, and under Klaw and Erlanger management it "cleaned up," making hundreds of thousands of dollars for the producers.

The part of Judy Abbott, the orphan girl, is one exactly suited to Mary Pickford. For a long time Miss Pickford has been anticipating the part, for it was inevitable that she should play it once the theatrical producers were willing to turn over film rights. These Miss Pickford purchased recently for $40,000.

Now, on the screen, "Daddy Long Legs," will be seen by more people than ever. The millions who read the book, or saw the play will see it on the screen, too, for none of them ever have forgotten this appealing story which comes like a ray of sun.

PRINCESS

The only tandem bicycle in Victoria is given a prominent place in "Tantalizing Tommy" and supplies a medium for one of the most laughable situations throughout the whole production, in which Miss B. Stephens and Mr. R. Ward appear with much distinction. Miss Eva Hart as "Tommy" gives a delightful interpretation of a very exacting role, her performance being of the highest calibre and is supported by Mr. R. N. Hincks, Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn, Mr. James Hunter and others who comprise an exceptionally well balanced cast. "Tantalizing Tommy" is preceded by "Kitty Clive" a brilliant one-act play of former days which is splendidly performed by Mrs., Miss, and Mr. Legge-Willis and Mr. Ward. The present run will end on Saturday evening next and a continuance of the excellent support already extended this very enjoyable entertainment is assured.

PANTAGES

Juliette Dika, the added attraction on the programme of vaudeville at the Pantages this week, is quite as famous for the wonderful clothes she wears in her act as for her own chic self, and the entrancing songs she sings so adorably. Though pure Parisian, she speaks English excellently and delights in speaking of this continent and its people with the charming frankness of a foreigner. "I came over here with 'The Red Mill' about ten years ago," she tells, "and I have been here every since in Winter Garden shows and many productions. Of course I have been home several times, but I must confess there were times when the visits were not altogether filled with joy. My country paid an awful price in the war." As she chatted yesterday with charming Latin spontaneity, she recalled a certain matinee when she quite forgot her lines while singing one of her own songs. The reason was to be found among the crowd of women in the front row of the theatre who insisted on discussing her costumes in an audible tone. "All I did was to leave the stage," she laughed. "The ladies quite threw me off. They meant well and said nice things about my clothes, but they were hardly polite to interrupt my singing."

VARIETY

Taylor Holmes and his wife have finally satisfied their yearnings for mountain climbing. During a scene-taking trip out in Arizona, the Holmes' spent many hours in wandering through the Grand Canyon and the surrounding country. In company with Virginia Valli, Mr. Holmes' leading lady in George K. Spoor's feature, "Ruggles of Red Gap," Mr. and Mrs. Holmes also spent an entire day in exploring around the ponderous Roosevelt dam. "From a height of many hundreds of feet above this dam," explained Mr. Holmes, "we crawled down to the road that carries you over it. I confess I have never before so thoroughly enjoyed sight-seeing in my life. The achievement of the men who made this dam is marvellous. One need not go abroad to get all the thrills of mountain climbing and exploring. For our great West contains every known natural beauty."

Taylor Holmes is starred in "Ruggles of Red Gap," the current attraction at the Variety.

COLUMBIA

Gladys Leslie, Vitagraph's girl with "the million dollar smile," will have another strong supporting cast with her in her next Blue Ribbon Feature, the working title of which is "The Nymph of the Foothills." For her leading man she has Alfred Kappeler, recently leading tenor in the Broadway production, "Oh, Look," and leading man for Ethel Barrymore in the Metro production of "An American Widow." Another member of Miss Leslie's support will be Walter Heirs, comedian.

Miss Leslie is seen to splendid advantage in "Wild Primrose," the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature which will be the attraction at the Columbia to-day and for the balance of the week. In this picture she goes in the guise of a wild untaught mountain girl into the home of her father whom she has not seen since he deserted her mother when she was a baby. She goes to him in a spirit of hate, but her lovable qualities have their effect despite her uncouth actions and eventually she wins the affection of the entire household.

ROMANO

In the cast of the new picture scheduled to be started soon at the William S. Hart studio, one of the leading "heavy" roles is allotted to a rattlesnake. After scouring the country for a suitably villainous-looking one, it was finally located—for twenty dollars—and brought to the studio. The rattler stayed around in a big box waiting its call to makeup for nearly twenty-four hours and everyone who had ever been scared by a snake came to the wire-covered box and took out his grudge on the helpless reptile. The result was that the morning after it was brought to the studio it gave evidences of something between St. Vitus' dance and an old-time death-bed scene, and Mr. Harte decided to take it out on the lot, shoot the necessary scenes and then shoot the snake—which was also part of the picture. He got out his "forty-five," loaded up, and went to the lot with a cameraman and the rattler. Mr. Hart got the gun ready in case it was needed unusually quick, and the snake was let out in the grass.

MANY FEATURES FOR CHAUTAUQUA FINAL

Illustrated Lecture, Concert Party and Children's Pageant To-day's Attractions

One of the feature events of Chautauqua week comes on the closing night in the presentation of the European views of the war zone. Henry Warren Poor, expert photographer, artist and lecturer, brings a remarkable series of photos secured during the closing days of the war and in the present Reconstruction period.

As head of the Color and Slide Department of Underwood & Underwood he was in a position to secure positively the latest arrivals from overseas. The firm of Underwood & Underwood is photographic headquarters for American newspapers and their camera men cover every new and important occurrence in every section of Europe. In addition, Mr. Poor brings his own splendid collection of photos secured during two recent trips abroad.

Henry Warren Poor is a lecturer of recognized standing and the lecture he brings with his pictures is of intense interest. He will present views showing the Americans in action during the last great offensive, the demobilization of the German forces, the occupation of Germany, President Wilson's wonderful reception in France, the Peace Conference and many other things of more than ordinary interest and timeliness.

Apollo Concert Party.

The Apollo Concert party will also give a concert on the final day. For a dozen years they have been traversing the United States, Canada, Mexico, even the Canal Zone and have just returned from a six months' trip for Ellison-White over the South Seas Chautauquas in New Zealand and Australia. During all these years they have stood in the very forefront among concert companies.

The Apollophone, a specially constructed instrument embracing the best qualities of the xylophone and marimbaphone, is featured in the two concerts. Saxophone quartets, trombone, viola, banjo and vocal solos, pianologues, readings, and ensemble numbers make up the remainder of these thoroughly joyous and inspiring programmes.

May-Day Pageant.

One of the prettiest features of the day will be the May-Day pageant presented in costume by local children who have been attending the Juvenile Chautauqua.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS A POPULAR POLICY

Pte. H. G. Peat Addressed Huge Chautauqua Audience Last Night

PLEA FOR TOLERANCE FOR RETURNED MEN

Pte. H. G. Peat, a veteran of the first Canadian Expeditionary Force, a Canadian by birth, and author of the book, "Private Peat," addressed the biggest audience of the week at Chautauqua last night. Taking for his subject "The Empire and the War," he dealt largely with the problem of the returned soldier and his re-entry into civil life, pleading for a tolerance on the part of those who had remained at home for the man who had been facing the inferno of war.

Plea For Tolerance.

"Everyone has a 'flivver' excepting the returned soldier," said the lecturer. "People seem to forget what the boys have been through. It is foolish—dangerous—to become disappointed in the work that the returned men do when they come back after long absence like this and when they are put to duties which are now more or less unfamiliar to them. The greatest thing you business men can do—the fairest thing you can do—is to be patient with him. The business man shouldn't 'give in' more to the returned man than the returned man should be called on to 'give in' to the business man."

Urging a policy towards world peace, Pte. Peat declared that the experiences of the past four and half years had taught the men who had been overseas what was really meant. Any of these men would do his best to prevent conditions which would make it necessary for his son to go through the same horrors. He admitted that wars could never be entirely eliminated, but recognition of some of the foolish principles which led to international strife might avert much of the trouble.

League of Nations.

Referring to the League of Nations, which he declared to be the biggest and most hopeful factor in the prevention of further wars among the nations, Pte. Peat stated that during the course of his extensive travels since April he had taken a straw vote on this question at each of the different towns touched by him. Everywhere he had found public opinion strongly in favor of the League of Nations—a circumstance which would contribute greatly to its success.

Pte. Peat, it appears, contemplates the early publication of another book.

An attractive vaudeville entertainment by The Regniers preceded the address, the programme including vocal solos and a number of very clever impersonations and character sketches.

PULLING AN ELEPHANT'S TOOTH

It does not require much imagination to realize that pulling an elephant's tooth is something of an engineering as well as a dental job.

An example of this was when Albert, one of the biggest elephants in the Rangling herd at Madison Square Gardens, New York, had refused to eat, and the circus veterinary found a great tooth cavity which was beyond remedy by filling.

The tooth that was giving Albert so much discomfort was as large as a man's fist. After a liberal dose of cocaine had been injected, forceps as big as ice tongs were clamped to the tooth, a rope attached to the forceps, and a squad of trainers made ready to supply the pulling power.

At a given signal the trainers gave a tremendous pull, and out came the huge tooth.

In this sort of dental work the unknown quantity lies in what the elephant will do. Albert had been taken out of the menagerie to prevent panic among the rest of the herd in case he developed an inclination to object to the process. However, he underwent the ordeal calmly, and as soon as his jaw was dressed he was conducted back to his stall.—Tit-Bits.

SPIRIT OF ROTARY EMBODIES PLAN OF REAL PHILOSOPHY

Rev. E. Leslie Pidgeon Delivers Brilliant Address to Rotary Club

CALL TO SERVICE IS RENEWED TO-DAY

An idealic and yet a practical picture of the functions of Rotary in the growth and development of society was painted for the Rotary Club at its luncheon to-day by the Rev. E. Leslie Pidgeon, of Winnipeg, formerly President of the Associated Rotary Clubs of the World, and a man recognized as one of the most brilliant of Canadian thinkers. The address embodied the highest principles for which Rotary stands. He impressed upon each member present the necessity for individual action which, the speaker emphasized, inevitably affected the life of all mankind.

Purpose of Rotary.

Commencing his address on "Rotary and its Functions in Democracy," Mr. Pidgeon pointed to the great growth of Rotary, and its consequently greater responsibilities. With enlarged membership which had made it a great force in public affairs it was the duty of Rotary, declared the speaker, to maintain its rightful functions at the highest pitch. These functions, of course, were summed up in the Rotary doctrine of service before self, they aimed to make man's daily work an expression of his highest ideals of service for the whole community, and they got down to the very basis of things.

But the doctrine was not the basis of Rotary, continued the speaker. It was the result of well-defined premises. The first premise on which the doctrine of service rested was the conviction that the philosophy of individualism, as opposed to the belief that society and mankind rose and fell together, was fundamentally wrong. Society, said the speaker, was like a plant, an organism all of whose parts united to bring forth fruit. It was like a circle the circumference of which meant nothing without the centre, and the centre nothing without the circumference. It was the lack among modern men of a realization of this fact, declared Mr. Pidgeon, that was one of the greatest barriers to the advance of civilization.

Inter-Relationships.

Granted, then, that individualism was fallacious it immediately became obvious, pursued the speaker, that the actions of one man immediately affected all about him, and that the actions of anyone about him affected him in greater or less degree. As an example of this Mr. Pidgeon discourse on the question of heredity as opposed to environment, and declared that evil moral tendencies could not be transmitted from father to son, but grew up purely as a result of training, and surroundings. Heredity transferred capacity for good or evil, but not the evil or good tendencies. Thus the capacity for crime among modern men was far greater than that of savages, but fortunately modern man came under better environment than did his naked forefathers. In fact, declared the speaker, a modern man had such a capacity in his brain for evil that he could do more harm before breakfast than a savage could do in a lifetime. The belief that a boy who had gone through a siege or evil influences would come out better, for the ordeal was fallacious, said Mr. Pidgeon, for every evil thing a man had seen, and every vile story he had heard, had weakened him just that much. A man took in impressions until reaching a certain age, and then gave them out. It was therefore of the utmost importance that he should take in the right impressions.

Philosophy of Rotary.

These thoughts, observed the speaker, might appear disjointed and irrelevant, but they formed just the philosophy upon which Rotary was based. It was essential for the development of society that nothing should take root in public institutions and in the laws of the world that should not be included in the philosophy and the religion of the individual. On the other hand, nothing should be embodied in the life, the philisophy of the individual that would not react for the benefit of the world if embodied in law or public custom. That was where Rotary came in. It ought to promote those ideals of service and duty among its members so that those ideals might react to the good of society. For nothing a man did, absolutely nothing, the speaker emphasized again, failed to affect the world about for good or bad, either through the production of good or bad citizens, or the physical comfort or pain it caused.

From this conception of life and of the duty of Rotary Mr. Pidgeon drew four conclusions which summed up in themselves a practical and at the same idealic philosophy. In the first place and of prime importance in Rotary was personal virtue. "No man," declared the speaker, "can do private right or private wrong without all society being injured by it, no matter how trivial that action may seem."

Duty to Society.

Secondly it was necessary that Rotarians should endeavor earnestly to socialize their private ideals of right so that they might affect the largest number in the best way. It was one of the most lamentable features of modern society and of Canada to-day, said Mr. Pidgeon, that so few of the good and earnest men of the country realized their duty to their fellow men, and displayed in public life the same virtues that marked their private character. The men who wanted something, who had an axe to grind were organized to get what they wanted from the Government while the sincere citizens sat down and wondered why the country was not run right. This condition should end, and would end when men became more public-spirited.

Again, Rotary must look to the welfare of all citizens in the community in order that there might be no members of society promoting ideals that were not for the best interests of all.

Lastly, Mr. Pidgeon declared that Rotary, while striving to promote the good of the nation at large, did not overlook the individual. On the contrary, the practice of Rotary, he asserted, produced a broader development in men, an added joy in accomplishment and a realization that the inner things of life were the most priceless possessions a man could have.

Not By the Wayside.

This, Mr. Pidgeon admitted, seemed a rather idealic picture, a rather exalted ideal for Rotary to pursue. "I have never known an organization to fail," he asserted, answering this objection, "because its ideals were too high, but I have seen organizations innumerable fall by the wayside because their ideals were not high enough. Whatever should be done. This world is not going to stop its upward climb until it reaches its fullest fruition, and it is to help this development, to make the expression of the individual, a greater driving force in the betterment of society that Rotary exists."

SAID TO HAVE SOLD OVER-STRENGTH BEER

Silver Spring Brewery Charged in Court Through Failing of Hansen Case

As a direct outcome of the unsuccessful prosecution of Charles Hansen, proprietor of the Tourist Bar, for having liquor for sale of over two and one-half per cent., the Silver Spring Brewery was charged in the police court this morning with unlawfully selling to Hansen beer which contained a greater percentage of alcohol than allowed by the Prohibition Act.

The defence in the Hansen case proved that the proprietor had no means at his disposal for telling whether the "Near Beer," which he received in bottles, was over the prescribed proportion. Hansen received the beer from the brewery, which guaranteed it to be within the law.

In order further to prove the innocence of Hansen the defence called evidence from the Silver Spring Brewery to show that the high percentage of the beer exhibited was due to a failure of the analyzing machine.

On these grounds Magistrate Jay dismissed the charge. City Prosecutor Harrison immediately arranged to bring the Silver Spring Brewery Company into court.

F. Shaw, who appeared for the accused, was granted a remand until Wednesday next.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the late Frederick Cook was held to-day at 1.30, service being conducted at the B. C. Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Gilbert Cook. Interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

With military honors the remains of the late Agustav A. Larsen were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery yesterday afternoon. Relatives and many friends, including representatives of the Army and Navy Veterans, of which he was a member, were present at the service held at the Sands Chapel at 2 o'clock. Rev. F. H. Fatt conducted the service and the hymns sung were "Art Thou Weary?" and "Abide With Me." The casket was covered with many beautiful flowers. The following members of the Army and Navy Veterans officiated as pallbearers: W. Rogers, D. J. Cook, Wm. Wright, G. H. Llewellyn, J. D. Coutts and R. A. Scott.

URGE TAX RELIEF FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

To urge that relief be afforded returned soldiers who owe arrears on taxes a delegation from the Great War Veterans Association will meet the City Council on Friday. The whole question of taxation of returned men's property will be discussed at the conference, and ways and means of affording relief will be suggested.

Case of Diseased Cow — Thomas Mould appeared in the Saanich Police Court this morning charged with taking a cow affected with an infectious disease into the neighboring municipality. The cow had been owned by Mrs. J. Hall, 2547 Prior Street, and was ordered destroyed by the provincial veterinary inspector, Dr. S. A. K. White. Instead of being immediately destroyed, it was kept on a ranch near Elk Lake by Mr. Mould. Magistrate Jay reserved his decision until to-morrow morning

HOW THE WAR WAS WON IN WORKSHOPS

Deputy Minister of Munitions Tell House of Commons What Was Accomplished

PRODIGIOUS OUTPUT OF THE MUNITION FACTORIES

In the British House of Commons Mr. Kellaway, Joint Parliamentary Secretary and Deputy Minister of Munitions gave a graphic description of the war record of Britain's workshops. He stated that the total expenditure of the Ministry of Munitions between the date of its establishment and the end of the last financial year was £1,834,507,941. In the year ending March 31, 1916, the Ministry's expenditure was £222,704,884; to 1917 it was £502,596,741; 1918, £639,206,316; and 1919, £470,000,000. That vast sum of £1,834,000,000 is the price this country paid for the equipment of its armies.

Grenades out of Beef Tins.

When the Army settled down to trench warfare in the autumn of 1914, our soldiers were practically without weapons suitable for this form of warfare.

They were without grenades, mortars, bombs, high explosive shell. The inadequacy of their equipment made it impossible for them to fight on equal terms with an enemy thoroughly equipped with every possible contrivance.

The British soldier, with the resource which has always distinguished him, set about providing his own trench warfare weapons. He improvised grenades from bully-beef tins and jam tins. In workshops erected in the field he carried on experiments with high explosives, hand grenades, trench mortars and bombs.

The Stokes Gun.

At the beginning of the war we were without a light trench mortar. Up to June 1915 only 314 trench mortars had been issued, and these were types which the soldiers themselves had developed in France.

The trench mortar position was saved very largely as the result of the invention of a civilian, Mr. Wilfred Stokes, who had an experience of official inertia which would have broken the heart of a man less confident than he.

The Stokes gun was taken up by the Ministry of Munitions and in August 1915 the present Prime Minister placed an order for 1,000. During the 18 months following June 1915 nearly 6,000 trench mortars were sent to the armies, and the total number issued during the war was 20,000. The Stokes trench mortar proved to be the best light trench mortar in the field, and it was adopted by all our Allies.

Owing to the shortage of proper trench mortars in the first months of the war large numbers of catapults were sent out to the armies; 3,000 were issued up to the end of 1915.

Tragic Figure.

I cannot help dwelling for a moment on the heroic, yet tragic, figure of the British soldier during the early months of trench warfare in France. Practically without weapons, against an enemy magnificently armed, striving with all his ingenuity under impossible conditions to arm himself, he presents one of the most tragic figures in all the history of the war.

The men who trod that Calvary and who remain alive have nothing to learn of physical suffering or bitterness of spirit.

The Ministry of Munitions had its official birth in the Act of Parliament passed in June 1915, but it may be said really to have had its beginning in the shambles of Festubert. The experience of that battle brought home to the most stubborn supporter of the old regime the need for new men and new methods.

How much blood would have been saved, how different the history of the war would have been, how fewer would have been the British graves in France if only the decision that was taken after Festubert had been taken nine months before, when the shortage of essential munitions was known to all who had access to official documents!

I sometimes see the expression used, "The Shell Shortage Controversy." To talk of controversy in connection with the shell shortage is to use language without a proper sense of its meaning. Surely there never was any controversy as to the fact?

Ten Months Wasted.

The shortage was terrible. It was known in the autumn of 1914, and it was still terrible on the bloody day at Festubert many months later.

and no adequate steps were taken to right it until the Ministry of Munitions was established with the present Prime Minister at its head.

There was during these ten wasted months a heresy in high places, which was expressed in the phrase "Business as usual." So long as that heresy controlled our policy there was no hope for our armies. It was not the fault of the men in the Armament Supply Department of the War Office. Within the powers that were given them they did wonderful things, but neither angels nor archangels could have succeeded until those who were responsible for policy cleansed themselves of the heresy of "Business as usual."

The War Office men, in nine months ordered over 30 million shells, but they had neither the organization nor the powers necessary to enable them to complete them, neither the labor nor the factories in which to fill the shells.

Revolutionary Steps Taken.

Immediate revolutionary steps were taken. Raw materials were controlled, and their distribution organized. The import, export, and production of machine tools was for the first time properly regulated. Great new factories were built, industrial establishments by the thousand were changed over from peace production to war production.

Women by the hundred thousand were brought into these factories, profits were controlled, wages were regulated, labor was organized. Trade union restrictions were abolished or modified.

Side by side with these heroic measures, practical men who knew the business of munitions production were brought into the service of the Government and were set to work to ascertain the causes of the failure of contractors to deliver the goods ordered by the old regime. The component manufacturers were brought together and the great work of redistribution went on.

Bigger Output of Guns.

Our annual output of shells before the war was about 55,000 rounds a year. The total output up to the date of the Armistice was about 200 million rounds.

The number of guns with the army at the outbreak of war was 456. Our total production of guns during the war was 26,430, plus 9,170 repaired.

Up to June 1915 there had been accepted by the War Office for delivery to the Army 1,485 machine guns. The total production up to December of last year was nearly 250,000. If the war had continued we should now have reached an output of 4,000 machine guns a weeek.

Motors and Aeroplanes.

In no previous war has mechanical transport played so large a part, either actually or relatively. In the September 1916 quarter the output of all types of motor transport was 1,910; the total output from September 1916 to December 1918 was 100,626.

The British Army had about 100 aeroplanes when the war began. The Ministry of Munitions took over the production on September 12, 1917. The production was then at the rate of 500 a month. At the date of the Armistice (little more than 18 months) production had been increased to 4,000 a month.

The Ministry of Munitions had been at work for nearly three years, when it was suddenly and unexpectedly submitted to a test, which tried every part of its organization.

In April 1918 the Germans made their great offensive. In the short course of that offensive our armies in France lost, either by capture or destruction:

1,000 guns.
70,000 tons of munitions (about 15 per cent of our stocks in France at that time).
4,000 machine guns.
200,000 rifles.
250,000,000 rounds of small arms ammunition.
700 trench mortars.
200 tanks.

Probably no army ever suffered such devastating losses of material. But our organizations came through that ordeal tripmphantly. British workers in the munitions industry rallied splendidly to the help of their hard pressed brothers in France.

Worker's Proud Record.

The position in which the British soldier found himself as the result of that offensive, standing with his back to the wall in defence of the Channel ports and of our homes, this spectacle swept away industrial faction and disunion as the summer's sun sweeps away the mists of morning.

The munition workers of the country broke their own proud record. As a result of their efforts and of the large reserves we had accumulated, we were able, within a fortnight of the German offensive, to replace every gun lost and actually to increase the establishment; to more than make up the heavy losses of shell and small arms ammunition; to send out 1,000 trench mortars for the 700 lost, and to replace every tank by a much superior model.

The Da·· We Broke the Hindenburg Line.

Three months later, Mr. Kellaway said, in the victorious offensive that began in August 1918, the expenditure rose to 2,900,000 rounds of ammunition and 80,000 tons weight in the biggest week, while in the culminating period in October the biggest week's expenditure amounted to 3,500,000 rounds and 85,000 tons weight.

On the day the British Army broke the Hindenburg Line (September 29, 1918) they fired 943,837 shells, the cost of which was £3,800,000, and the weight of which was 40,000 tons. This was a greater number than was fired during the whole four years of the South African War.

If we take the pre-war output of shell at 55,000 a year, it means that a year's output of that time was on that day being fired from our guns every 80 minutes.

Chemists Who Risked Their Lives.

Defending the action of the department in dealing with contracts for experimental supplies, Mr. Kellaway said that in the production of new weapons is was necessary that experiment and research should be going side by side with manufacture, and before experience had produced the perfect method supplies had been ordered of a kind which it became necessary to scrap.

When the Germans first used poison gas in April 1915 those gasses had only been produced in this country in quantities of a few drams. Our chemists and manufacturers were got together, and in 1915 they had worked up to a production of liquid chloride of 850 tons. In the ten months of 1918 15,500 tons of gasses for use in warfare had been produced.

Some of the earlier samples had to be scrapped either because they had not realized expectations, or because of changes in the German material. No man would have expected the Ministry to continue the production of an inferior material when a superior material had been discovered.

The work of the men in the Chemical Warfare Department has never had justice done to it.

In cold blood they risked their lives to experiment with the poisonous substances for use against Germany.

Both on its offensive and its defensive side their work put this country into a position of superiority against Germany. The soldiers will salute those men who, in three years, created a practically new industry and raised production from five tons a week to something like 370 tons a week.

STREET CAR SPEEDING

Street Railway Legal Limit to Be Enforced in Court.

In the Police Court to-morrow morning the first charge of speeding against a street car driver will be heard. Motorcycle Constable Tom Palmer saw a Cloverdale street car on Sunday morning traveling at, what he alleges, was a greater rate of speed than ten miles an hour.

During the recent preliminary hearing of the Emery case, several witnesses stated that the street car bound for the Willows was traveling at an excessive rate of speed. Frank Higgins, K. C., counsel for the accused, pointed out that the regulations did not permit a street car to proceed at a greater rate of speed than ten miles an hour.

CHARLES H. GOULD DIES IN MONTREAL

Montreal, July 31.—Charles Henry Gould, sixty-three years old, who for nearly thirty years was librarian of McGill University, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. Mr. Gould was at his office in the library yesterday morning, apparently in his usual health.

San Salvador, July 31.—Four towns in Honduras have been captured by the revolutionists, according to dispatches received here to-day, while Government troops have scored successes at three points.

RECORD TRANSACTION IN BASEBALL HISTORY

Boston Club Received $40,000 For Mays, In Addition to Four Players

Boston, July 31.—The trade by which Carl Mays, underhand pitcher of the Boston Americans, was transferred to the New York Americans, took rank today among the biggest transactions financially in the history of baseball. An official of the Red Sox stated that the Boston Club received $40,000 in cash for Mays in addition to Pitchers Allan Russell and Robert McGraw and at third player to be chosen later. An estimate placed the trading value of the three players in excess of $15,000.

It is understood that Derrill Pratt, second baseman of the New York team, was the most likely choice of the Boston Club among the six players available. With this choice exercised, the Red Sox management is expected to consummate a deal now pending which has as its object the acquisition by Boston of Scott Perry, pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics. Boston probably will offer Pratt and another player, with $15,000, for Perry, it is said

Report Suspended.

Chicago, July 31.—Carl Mays, the big Boston pitcher, who was traded yesterday by the Boston Americans to the New York Yankees, has been suspended indefinitely by B. B. Johnson, president of the American League. The suspension is the result of the desertion from the Boston club by Mays in Chicago on July 13. Mays had a three-year contract with the Boston club and when he left the club he broke the contract, Mr. Johnson declared. The deal which was consummated in New York yesterday is not approved by Mr. Johnson, who said that he was surprised to think that any club owner should be dickering for a player who acted as Mays did.

"Baseball cannot tolerate such a breach of discipline," said Mr. Johnson, in suspending the player.

PITTSBURG PROTESTS CINCINNATI GAME

Pittsburg, Pa., July 30.—Officials of the Pittsburg National League Club announced to-night they had protested to President John A. Heydler, the first game between the Pirates and Cincinnati, played in Cincinnati last Sunday. The Reds won the game 5 to 3.

The Pittsburg club officials cite the fact that during Sunday's games in Cincinnati it was necessary to establish ground rules, owing to the big crowd, these rules giving a runner only two bases in event the ball went into the crowd.

With Groh on first base in the sixth inning, Neale hit to Shortstop Terry, of the Pittsburg club. The latter tried to force Groh at second, but the throw was wild, and the ball went into the right field crowd. Umpire Rigler, according to the Pittsburg club officials, allowed Groh to score on the play. Acting Manager Carey, of the Pirates, protested to the umpire at the time that under the ground rules, Groh was entitled to only third base.

MAY HAVE TO TRY ALL FISHERMEN WHO DESTROYED SEINE NETS

Vancouver, July 31.—The possibility that Vancouver may witness the spectacle of fifty or sixty returned soldier fishermen from Smith's Inlet demanding to be tried on a charge of destroying seine nets and boats of the Wallace Fisheries was opened up this morning by the intimation that the police authorities have instituted proceedings against the ringleaders in the recent net-burning episode.

Although only half a dozen or so actually were identified as taking part in the seizure and destruction of the offending seine nets, the fishermen to the number of sixty or eighty held a meeting and decided that if any arrests were made of their leaders they would all insist on being placed under arrest and brought to trial along with their comrades.

FREIGHT FOR ALASKA.

Vancouver, July 31.—E. J. Farr, of the White Pass and Yukon Route, announces that freight and passengers moving via Skagway to Bettles, Alaska, should leave Seattle or Vancouver not later than August 10. Passengers' freight destined for Iditarod should not leave later than September 2 and those for points on the main river below Tanana should sail by September 4. This does not mean that freight and passengers should not move before these dates; it means this is the closing days.

HOISTS BROOM AT MASTHEAD OF WINNIPEG AFTER TRIALS SHOW RECORD SPEED ATTAINED

Remarkable Results Are Secured Over Parry Bay Course —Engines Are Locally Made—Foundation Officials Enthusiastic

Flaunting the broom aloft in honor of her record-breaking trial trip, the wooden steamship Winnipeg proudly steamed to her berth at the noon hour to-day after completing the most successful test cruise ever held on the British Columbia coast.

All former speed records were shattered by the Winnipeg, which set up the splendid general average of 13.52 knots, exactly 1.21 knots better than Hull 209, which established the previous best time of the fleet of vessels turned out here by the Foundation Company of British Columbia, Limited, for the Republic of France.

Locally Built Engines

The remarkable performance of the Winnipeg is all the more pleasing because of the fact that the engines responsible for the speed attained are locally built, being the product of the well-known engineering firm of Hutchinson Bros. & Co., Ltd. "The first all-Victoria ship," delightedly exclaimed Emile E. Triqueneaux, representative of the French High Commission. "I am greatly pleased with her."

No better testimonial to the worth of a vessel could be given, coming as it did from the conservative French representative.

"I am much gratified at the splendid showing made by this ship," declared Edward E. Jenkins, assistant Northwest manager of the Foundation Co.,

"It is particularly pleasing to me to know that the Winnipeg made such a fine average with local engines installed in her," he added. The firm of Hutchison Bros. & Co., Ltd., have shown enterprise in handling this engine contract, and every credit is due to them."

"I might also say that I have collected all my bets."

Time in Course.

In covering the Parry Bay course the Winnipeg made the following splendid runs: Four minutes 24 seconds, 13.63 knots; 4 minutes 51 seconds, 12.87 knots; 4 minutes 13 seconds, 14.22 knots; 4 minutes 15 seconds, 14.11 knots; 4 minutes 14 seconds, 14.17 knots; 4 minutes 45 seconds, 12.63 knots.

The best average for one round trip over the measured mile worked out at 14.16 knots. The average revolutions was 130 per minute—2½ revolutions better than the best previous ships—and a steam pressure of 187 pounds was recorded in the engine-room.

Everybody who took part in the trial cruise returned hugely delighted with the wonderful performance of the ship. "I am so pleased that I have nothing to say, except that all the credit possible is coming to the Hutchison firm," ejaculated George H. Wayland, superintendent of the Ogden Point outfitting plant, and Mr. Wayland is a man of very few words. "It is certainly great that a local firm is capable of turning out such fine engines," he added.

"These ships are the finest wooden sea boats I have ever had the privilege to handle," declared Pilot W. H. Whiteley, who has paced many a good ship during his long period of service on the British Columbia coast.

"This is the best set of engines yet installed, I cannot speak too highly of them," said Ed. Bennett, installation engineer at Ogden Point. "On the present showing we expect to make even better time when the next unit of Hutchinson engines are tested out. "All we want is a few days to smooth off the sough edges and then I am willing to predict anything."

Excellent Conditions.

The weather for the trial was perfect. On former cruises strong winds hampered movement during the test-out, but the Winiipeg had everything in her favor, and she delivered the goods.

Manager Edw. E. Jenkins was so delighted with the general average that he ordered the hoisting of a broom to the truck of the mainmast in place of the customary flag, and with the emblem of a "clean-sweep" aloft the ship meandered back to port. Perhaps the most delighted individual aboard the Winnipeg to-day was Dan Hutchison, general manager of Hutchison Bros. & Co., Ltd. Other representatives of the engine-building firm aboard were Robert Hutchison, F. W. Patton, machine shop superintendent; J. T. Adams, foundry superintendent; W. Shaw, machine shop foreman, and G. T. Temple, secretary-treasurer of the firm.

Others who made the cruise were: Edw. E. Jenkins, assistant Northwest manager of the Foundation Company; E. E. Triqueneaux, representative of the French High Commission; George H. Wayland, superintendent at Ogden Point; W. G. Winterburn, local representative of the Bureau Veritas; Capt. W. J. Stephens and H. Barnett, surveyors for the Bureau Veritas; J. R. Hodgson, engine inspector for the Bureau Veritas; Ed. Bennett, installation engineer; D. R. Finnick, G. W. Ferris and Carl Pendray.

Capt. T. J. Jackman, port captain of the Foundation Company, was in charge of the ship.

The Winnipeg gave an indication of her speed when she returned to Ogden Point last night from Esquimalt, where she had been hauled out.

On that run she averaged eleven knots at a boiler pressure of 150 lbs. and the engines turned over at 120 revolutions. By that performance she conclusively proved that she was good for thirteen knots under favorable conditions, and driving under a full head of steam.

Considerable deck work has yet to be completed on the Winnipeg, but this will be rushed to permit the ship being turned over to the French Government. The Winnipeg is the fourth Foundation-built ship to complete her trials this month, a very creditable record that has yet to be approached by any other yard in the country. The next Foundation ship will be put through her trials about August 9. This ship will be equipped with engines supplied by the Sumner Iron Works, of Everett. The next unit of Hutchison engines will be delivered to the Foundation Company by August 10.

POWERFUL ENGINES ARE DESIGNED FOR GOVERNMENT SHIPS

Type of Propelling Machinery to Be Suppied for 8,100-Ton Freighters

Sixteen of the forty-five steel steamships ordered by the Dominion Government for the Canadian Merchant Marine will be of 8,100 tons deadweight each representing a total deadweight carrying capacity of approximately 130,000 gross tons. Orders for the 8,100 tonners were placed as follows: Canadian Vickers, Ltd., Montreal, 6; J. Coughan & Sons, Vancouver, 4; Halifax Shipyards, Ltd., Halifax, N. S., 2; Harbor & Marine Company, Ltd., Victoria, 2; Prince Rupert Dry dock & Engineering Company, Prince Rupert, 2.

The first three of these steamships, the Canadian Pioneer, the Canadian Ranger and the Canadian Seigneur, were launched by Canadian Vickers, Ltd. Halifax Shipyards has laid two keels. The Harbor Marine Company has one keel down and another under way at this port and the Coughlan Company has commenced operations at Vancouver.

Propelling Machinery.

The machinery for these 8,100-ton vessels will consist of one set of inverted, vertical, direct-acting, triple expansion, surface condensing engines, with three cylinders working on seperate cranks placed at angles of 120 degrees of each other and supplied with steam from three multitubular boilers, at a working pressure of 180 lbs to the square inch. The high cylinder will be 27 inches in diameter; the intermediate pressure cylinder 44 inches in diameter and the low pressure cylinder 73 inches in diameter, each with a 48-inch stroke.

Engines and boilers for the Government steamships are being supplied by Canadian Vickers, Ltd., of Montreal.

The approximate dates for the delivery of the two steel vessels building at the local plant of the Harbor Marine Company, are January 31, 1920, and November 30, 1920.

N. Y. K. GETS BUSY CHARTERING VESSELS

Five Carriers Have Been Secured by Japanese Company

The chartering of Oriental ships continues to be brisk. Up to the present tht Nippon Yusen Kaisha has refrained from making new charters, but the premier Japanese company has now come forward and chartered five steamers. The Tekai Maru, 4,970 tons, and the Unkai Maru, III., 4,350 tons, have been chartered at $5 each for the Indian service. The company has also chartered three other steamers, the Yoro Maru II., 3,500 tons, the Asaka Maru II., 2,500 tons, and the Kinsan Maru, 2,700 tons—all at $3.75 for the coasting trade.

The chartering of two of these steamers by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha is due to the increased shipments of general cargo from Japan to India, and to the increase in the shipment of Indian cotton on the return voyage. Special significance attaches, however, to the fact that the company, which is well known for its conservative business policy, has now become bold enough to pay $5 for the Indian trade boats.

In some quarters in Japan this is interpreted as pointing to the belief of the company that the present recovery of activity in the shipping market is well grounded.

Though the demand for tonnage for the shipment of foodstuffs to Europe has decreased somewhat, there have been further offers recently, and the Kuhara Company, has chartered the Yancouver Maru, 9,100 tons at $7.50 for four or six months. Messrs. Suzuki & Co. have chartered the Yahiko Maru, 4,000 tons for the Australian trade at about $4.50. The Saian Maru, 2,100 tons, has been chartered by the Yamashita-Kisen Kaisha at $4. The Taiyo Kaiun Kaisha has chartered the Fukuura Maru 4,100 tons for the Australian trade at $4.25.

WILL RETAIN MAY ON CANADIAN REGISTER

Company Will Have Her Fitted For West Indies Fruit Trade at Yarrows

The name of the Princess May will be changed, but her registration will be retained in Canada. This information is given to The Times by the representative of the purchasers who are acquiring the former Canadian Pacific Railway steamer for the banana fruit trade.

It is the intention to place the boat first in the run from Havana to New York. Later she will be used to transport fruit from the littoral plantations of Mexico to New Orleans.

The alterations to the vessel, which will be carried out at Yarrows, Limited, will occupy five weeks. The vessel will have her cabin accommodation removed, ventilators installed for protecting the fruit in the holds—it is the practice of the company to ship the green bunches—new propellers put on, and a new fo'castle erected. The fo'castle is unsuited at present to tropical storms. There will also be other changes made in the structural features of the vessel.

The company appears to be well satisfied with the report from their representatives who has been in the city for the past four weeks, and owners think that the Princess May will fulfil the proposed plans they have for her future.

As the Princess May was being taken from her moorings to Yarrows, Ltd., last night she scraped bottom slightly, but beyond removing a little paint she was undamaged.

GIVES DAYLIGHT RUN UP THE ST. LAWRENCE

White Star-Dominion Line Changes Its Sailing Hour From Montreal

In order to conform to the sailing hours of departures in force at other ports, and to do away with some of the objectionable features met with by following out the evening embarkation, the White Star-Dominion Line has decided to sail their steamers, commencing with the departure of the S.S. Canada, August 13, at 10 a. m., embarkation being started at 7 a. m. Breakfast will be served to all passengers who arrive in on the early morning train, and in this way no delay or inconvenience will be caused the passengers by having to rush their early morning meal. The steamers will, as usual, when proceeding down the river, call at Quebec late in the afternoon and embark any passengers who may desire to join the ship at that port, and at the same time give all the passengers the benefit of watching operations from the time they go on the ship, also to see the St. Lawrence from the beginning.

The White Star Line S.S. Olympic, after her arrival on the other side will proceed to Belfast where she will be immediately reconditioned and fitted up to pre-war times.

STRIKES DIMINISH PROFITS.

Washington, July 31.—Labor troubles in European and South American ports and the breakdown of international transportation in those countries are handicapping the American merchant marine to such an extent that it is doubtful if profits can be earned at this time, the House Merchant Marine Committee was told today by John E. Cushing, acting director of the Shipping Board's Bureau of Operations.

SOLDIERS TO DISCUSS THE HOUSING SCHEME

Returned Men Will Gather in G.W.V.A. Rooms To-night to Decide on Action

All returned soldiers who are anxious to have the City Council reconsider its decision in regard to the Housing Scheme are requested to attend a meeting to be held this evening in the rooms of the Great War Veterans' Association, Fort Street. The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock by Major Walter Barty, Chairman of the Central Returned Soldiers' Committee.

Many of the veterans of the war do not wish to lose the $180,000 which has been apportioned to this city by the Provincial Government. Other municipalities have accepted the scheme and the announcement is made by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, that the Victoria allotment will be distributed amongst other centres, which are clamoring for additional moneys.

At this evening's meeting the returned men will discuss the best way of taking up the Housing Scheme with the Council. It is more than likely that a deputation will wait on the fathers of the city and probe from them directly the real reasons for the refusal to assist returned men. They do not believe that the aldermen are serious in the statement that only fifty per cent. of the soldiers who accepted the grants would complete their payments. It is merely a supposition the returned men state, and a very unfair one at that. So far the returned soldiers have not failed in any obligations which would warrant the statement.

All returned soldiers, whether they propose to take advantage of the Housing Scheme or not, are requested to attend the meeting in order to lend weight to the demand which is to be made from the City Council.

The policemen were going out on duty, and X 0239 was trying to explain to the inspector what had become of his whistle.

"You see, sir, it was this way," he said. "When I got 'ome last night I placed that there whistle on the table, and presently, when I turns round, blest if one of my kids wasn't chokin' an' nearly black in the face. You see, sir, 'e'd swallowed the whistle."

The inspector hid a sympathetic heart beneath his blue tunic.

"Is the poor little one dead?" he asked gently.

"Lor', no, sir!" was the reply. "'E ain't exactly dead. You see, sir, little Bill, 'e's—'e's got the whoopin'-corf, an' every time 'e coughs the whistle goes, an' a policeman comes to the door!"

"BUY YOUR COAL EARLY" IS SLOGAN OF COAL DEALERS

Congestion and Higher Cost Next Winter Are Used As Warning

SHOULD FOLLOW AMERICAN EXAMPLE

"Buy your winter coal supply early." This is the advice tendered by the coal merchants of Victoria to their customers. In doing so they are falling in line with the vendors in the various cities in the United States. It will have been observed by readers of American newspapers here that large advertisements have recently appeared at the joint instigation of coal dealers in the various cities, pointing out the situation which is expected to arise in the winter of 1919-1920.

The Ideal Time.

The Fuel Controller of Canada in his final report issued this spring, on the question of the time to buy coal said: "Summer is the ideal time to move coal. Canadian consumers should study closely market conditions and make a practice of buying at slack seasons."

This argument is now being driven home in the United States, owing to the congestion which occurred when the shortage was so acute last winter.

The matter has been taken up very heartily in this city by the dealers, who state that they approach the campaign simply in the public interest, being confident that with labor increases, particularly with the possibility of a six hour day, and the difficulty of supplies, it is not easy to assure a regular supply at a later date. One dealer informed The Times that the situation last winter was so bad that for two weeks he could not get deliveries from the collieries, and he anticipated that circumstances would be worse in the future.

Another dealer remarked that no better bunkers for the householder existed than in the customer's own basement. It is made clear by all that the placing of orders early is the essential, and that they will be filled as opportunity offers.

Situation Critical.

The industrial situation in Eastern British Columbia must have an important bearing upon the general position in this part of the Province. Vancouver Island orders will have to take care of that field. Experts report that there is a shortage of 48,000,000 tons in the United States and Canada up to June.

Those who have held off from stocking up, on the ground that coal will fall in price cannot be encouraged, as the evidence points to increases rather than a decline. Thousands of miners are going back to the old country on account of the limited summer work, and few are coming out.

No coal may possibly come into Victoria for weeks at a time, fuel merchants state, and dealers may be forced to fall back on reserve supplies, which are very quickly used up during cold weather.

While the last three winters have been mild, if a cold snap comes similar to that of February 1916, then the conditions will not be satisfactory.

NEW CLOTHING STORE IS OPENED IN CITY

Extensive Line of Men's Furnishings at Charles Carey's Store

One of the latest additions to Victoria's high class clothing stores is the Central Clothes Shop, which has been opened at 614 View Street to-day by Charles Carey. Mr. Carey is well known in the city as a haberdasher of experience and taste.

Mr. Carey returned from New York two weeks ago with an elaborate line of exclusive men's wear and his friends insisted that he should open his shop immediately. Included in the stock is a fine assortment of shirts, ties and men's requirements, while there are suits in abundance to appeal to all tastes. Hats will form one of the leading features of the new shop, but the large stock will not arrive in the city for two weeks yet.

"I am fortunate in having lots of friends in Victoria and I want to please them with the latest and best in apparel," Mr. Carey observed yesterday. "I had excellent luck when I was in New York. I got some really fine lines from the makers at the same time that customers of long standing were being denied shipments on account of labor shortage. I suppose they figured that it was good business to give me the best they had for the opening, and I made the most of the sentiment."

THREE DOCTORS VISIT

Canadian Army Medical Corps Officials Here on Inspection.

Colonel I. H. Cameron and Lieut.-Colonels Clarence L. Starr and H. C. Parsons, of the Canadian Army Medical Corps, who compose the board of medical consultants for the Militia Department, arrived in Victoria yesterday on inspection work. The peak of military hospital work is passed, Colonel Starr states, the recline in number of patients having begun some months ago. There are still about 1,500 invalids in England, however.

A number of hospitals have been closed in other provinces, Colonel Starr stated, and if the situation warrants it the number may be diminished in this province shortly. Until the board of consultants has looked into the local situation he was unable to express opinion as to when this would occur.

That the whole hospital work may be turned over to the soldiers' civil re-establishment department in the near future was intimated by Colonel Starr. In this event the men would be discharged from the army and treated as civilians. They would of course lose none of their rights as soldiers in the matter of post-discharge benefits, but would during their stay in hospital be free from the military disciplinary conventions.

All three members of the board of consultants are prominent specialists of Toronto who gave up their practices to do military work. Colonel Starr is one of the leading orthopedic specialists in Canada, a branch of surgery which has a most important bearing on army medical corps work.

The board of consultants was formed by Surgeon-General Fotheringham when he returned from England to take over the administration of the military hospitals in Canada in the spring of 1918. It was on the advice of this board that the extensive additions to hospital accommodation were made in that year.

The scarcity of jam was being discussed by two mothers on an East-end door step.

"What's the good of four ounces of jam a week to my biby?" said one of them. "Why, I used to wash about an ounce off his face after tea every day."
